NEWS SUMMARY

SITUATION IN THE FAR EAST.

A dispatch from Mukden says that although heavy rains are again hindering the opposing armies an "interesting movement" toward Tie-Ling is taking place. No details are given. The actual fighting around Mukden has ceased and the Russian retreat is progressing peacefully, although the main forces of the Japanese are very near the city and a big battle is imminent. The czar has determined upon a reorganization of the Russian forces at the front, probably in the form of two armies. Gen. Linevitch and Gen. Baron Kaulbars are said to be slated for the command of these armies, respectively, with Gen. Kuropatkin as commander-in-chief, though severe critics of the latter are urging the emperor that he be superseded, and this may be done. SOUND POLICY AND NO CHANGE

Senator Fairbanks Says Republican Success Inspires Confidence.

HELPS THE FARMER

Vice Presidential Candidate Points Out the Benefits of Roosevelt Administration.

PARTY SOLVES EVERY PROBLEM

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HARTFORD, CONN., Sept. 8.—The campaign in Connecticut on the part of the Republicans was opened tonight by a rally, at which Charles W. Fairbanks, the Republican vice presidential nominee, was the chief speaker. He was enthusiastically received by an audience that exceeded the seating capacity of the hall, and throughout was given close attention. Former Gov. Morgan G. Bulkely presided and made a short welcoming speech. Senator Fairbanks said:

Republican policies have never been a menace to the business interests of the country. Their triumph has never been awaited with serious apprehension. If Republican policies are approved at the ballot box at the coming election commerce will not need to furl her sails and industry will not need to prepare to meet surprises which change of administration sometimes brings. What the country needs is not only sound policies, but it requires that they should not be frequently changed.

The Republican party has kept faith with the country. It has made the pledge of eight years ago the written law. It has established the gold standard and it is proud of it. It will stand for its maintenance against all comers. We will not intrust the mighty business affairs of the republic to the control of a party which lacks the moral courage to avow its confidence in the virtue of the gold standard. We will not intrust that power to a party which is seriously divided upon this great and vital question.

Under Republican policies and Republican administration our commerce has attained a magnitude unequaled in all our history. The question before us to decide is shall we reverse our policies and overturn the administration upon which so much has been accomplished?

During the last seven years the wage earners have more work and better wages than they enjoyed under Democratic administration. What we want is work for the American workingmen and a wage scale that is better than that enjoyed in any other country upon this earth. The adoption of the Democratic revenue policy means to invite the misfortunes which came to labor during the last Democratic administration.

Our Democratic friends express the opinion that we are doing but little for the farmers. They were never more in error. The agricultural department was never accomplishing more than it is today under Secretary Wilson. During the last year the value of farms has increased almost beyond the power of computation.

The Republican party has been loyal to the interests of the farmers of the United States. The farmers of Vermont on Tuesday last emphasized their confidence in the virtue and efficacy of Republican policies.

The government business is well conducted. So long as President Roosevelt is intrusted with power no one need doubt that he will whip out of place those who prove themselves unworthy. His ambition is to conduct public business on a high plane and in a close way and to promote the public welfare.

It is essential that we should have in control of national affairs a party of trusted capacity, well tested to meet contingencies as they arise. Judging by our past experience the Republican party will be found capable of meeting every problem that may arise and of solving it in a manner to advance the country's honor and welfare.

AGREE TO COMPROMISE.

Republican Differences in Kanawha County, W. Va., Referred to State Committee.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The factional fight in the Republican party in this county will be refered to the Republican state executive committee. The Dawson-Smith factions and the Hall factions have tickets in the field for county officers.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Republican county chairmen from about 45 counties met here today at the Republican state headquarters for a conference with state committeemen and to report on conditions in their respective counties.

A MIDNIGHT SIGNAL TO ALL THE WORLD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Promptly at this midnight a signal was sent to all important points of the world from the naval observatory here telling the various countries that it was 12 o'clock midnight in Washington. The signal was sent over about 300,000 miles of wires and cables. The affair was planned in honor of the representatives of the National Geographic society, which is holding sessions in Washington.

JUDGE PARKER MUCH ALARMED

Will Be Asked to Take Personal Charge of Campaign.

EXPRESSES HIS FEAR

Tells Democratic Editors That Something Must Be Done Quickly.

NEW YORK TORN BY STRIFE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

Judge Parker will be asked to come to this city as soon as his letter of acceptance has been made public and to take charge temporarily of his own campaign. Reasons why such force will be laid before him to persuade him to take this step that his confidence is regarded as certain. It will be shown to him that the Democratic forces are being disintegrated and disorganized by dissensions among the leaders and that these conditions have reached such a pitch that only his authority can straighten out the tangle.

Although the campaign managers have tried to make the best of the result of the Vermont election, there is no denying the fact that the great Republican majority there was a severe blow to them in many ways even as one. They knew their opponents were sending large sums of money to Vermont and they drew heavily upon their own campaign chest. Instructions were sent to the Democratic fugleman in certain public ways. Those instructions were ignored and what became of the money is a mystery.

Judge Parker will be told that he must abandon his policy of making no campaign speeches and will be informed that if the Democrats are to have a chance of winning he must take the field himself and become leader in fact as well as in name.

The most important feature of the visit of the Democratic editors to Esopus today was not what Judge Parker said in his set speech to his visitors, but the things that he confided to the editors and other visitors with whom he held private conversations. Judge Parker had conferences with Henry Watterson, Charles W. Knapp, several representatives of Tammany hall and others, to whom he frankly admitted that he was far from pleased with the inactivity that has so far characterized the Democratic campaigns in the various doubtful states. The Judge expressed some alarm over the continued hostilities between the various Democratic factions in this state.

The Judge spoke in a warning tone and unhesitatingly to some of his visitors, saying that if the party expected to win it would have to fight a vigorous fight and that at once. He told them plainly that what was needed was less petty quarreling and more action.

SAYS REPUBLIC WILL BE MERGED BY CORPORATION

Story of Prospective Steel Company Consolidation Is Published at Cleveland.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—The Leader tomorrow will say:

"The Republic Iron and Steel Company will become a part of the United States Steel Corporation before December 1. The first authoritative statement on the subject was obtained here this afternoon. The critics of the steel situation make the assertion that this will complete one of the most effective combinations for the maintenance of the prices that has been seen in the steel business. The situation is strengthened by the report confirmed today that the Lackawanna Steel Company has joined the pool on the Naples plan and will be bound by the agreement among those mills to uphold the prices. Now that the Republic has been brought into the market will be absolutely protected against depressions."

AN AMERICAN OFFICER CONDOLES WITH SKRYDLOFF?

VLADIVOSTOK, Sept. 8.—Vice Admiral Skrydloff has received a letter from Lieut. Thompson, evidently writing in behalf of the officers of the warship Manila, expressing sympathy with the admiral in the losses sustained by the Vladivostok squadron and admiration of the fight of the Russian cruisers Korietz and Varyag with the Japanese at the opening of the war. The letter is written in fair Russian.

MEAT STRIKE OFFICIALLY DECLARED OFF BY MEN

Packers Say They Will Give Places to Skilled Workmen as Far as Possible—Action by President Donnelly.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The strike of the butcher workmen, which has demoralized the meat packing industry throughout the country for the last two months, was officially declared off tonight by President M. J. Donnelly of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America. This morning Mr. Donnelly telegraphed the members of the national executive committee asking their consent to an announcement of the end of the struggle, and tonight received favorable answers from all.

The strike of the members of the affiliated unions at the stock yards, who quit work in sympathy with the butchers, will officially be called off tomorrow morning. This was decided upon at a meeting of the central body of the allied trades tonight.

When the packers were notified tonight that it had been decided to end the strike they announced that they would give places as far as possible to the skilled men, but it was stated at the same time that many of the men would be unable to secure their old places as in many cases the work was being performed in a satisfactory manner by men who had been secured since the commencement of the strike.

Too Bad to Jolly Her That Way.

KEYSER MAY BE SENATE LEADER

Philadelphian Will Probably Succeed John C. Grady as Floor Manager.

GARLAND WITH PENROSE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 8.

Senator William H. Keyser of Philadelphia will probably succeed John C. Grady as floor manager of the senate, although this announcement has not been officially promulgated by the party leaders.

The death of Chief Clerk E. W. Smiley has created a vacancy which it will be difficult to fill. Mr. Smiley's long experience and ripe judgment as a parliamentarian made him invaluable to the presiding officers of the senate. W. Harry Baker, assistant clerk of the senate, seems to be the logical successor for the place. Mr. Baker has worked his way up from a page boy and is fully competent to fill the position. He enjoys the confidence of the party leaders, and it is possible that this promotion may come to him. Others mentioned in this connection are Herman Miller, senate librarian; ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Samuel Cochran of Armstrong, and Thomas H. Garvin, present clerk of the house.

Among the visitors today at Republican state headquarters were Judge Orlady of the superior court, Congressmen Cassell and Wright, Representative W. H. Irwin and Factory Inspector E. P. Gamble of Altoona and M. M. Garland of Pittsburgh. Mr. Garland and Senator Penrose had an extended talk relative to the labor differences at the new state capitol, and it is believed that Mr. Garland was definitely informed as to the position of the Republican leaders.

Three unions are at variance, two of which are of the same trade and battling for exclusive recognition, while the third has mixed in by taking sides with one of the belligerents. It has been suggested that the work be divided equally, but one of the unions rejects this plan of compromise. Should it not recede it will probably be barred from further consideration.

INSIST ON A CUT.

Window Glass Manufacturers Say They Cannot Accede to Demand for Higher Wages.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The national association of Window Glass Manufacturers is holding its annual convention in this city. This afternoon the employers appointed a scale committee to meet a similar committee from the employes' association to arrange the scale for the coming year.

The employers say they cannot allow the small advance the men hoped to secure, but on the other hand must insist on a slight cut in wages. President Phillips of the employes' organization hoped to get his wage scale committee here to meet their employers tonight, but was unable to do so, and the meeting will take place tomorrow.

The employers today discussed the advisability of establishing a central selling agency.

CAPT. GRIDLEY'S WIDOW GETS CHECK FOR $9,413

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The treasury department has begun sending checks to the officers and men of Admiral Dewey's fleet in payment for the awards of prize money for the victory of the American fleet at Manila bay. Among the checks so far sent out are those of Admiral Dewey and Mrs. Harriet Gridley of Erie, Pa., widow of Capt. Gridley. The check to Admiral Dewey is for $10,516 and to Mrs. Gridley for $9,413.

Ballington Booth Returns.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Ballington Booth, with their children, returned from England on the Majestic, having been away since July. They visited England, Switzerland, France and Germany.

NOTABLE MEN VISITED THE CITY

Members of Inter-Parliamentary Union Saw Big Mills—Mayor Was Absent.

NOBLEMEN LIKE PITTSBURGH

A view of Pittsburgh's industries yesterday hypnotized the members of the Inter-Parliamentary union when they stopped here to visit the Carnegie steel works on the way to St. Louis, where they will attend the international arbitration conference. In two special Pullman trains they spent the day at Braddock and Homestead and at 9 o'clock last night left Pittsburgh over the Pennsylvania lines for the world's fair city. It was the largest body of foreign notables that ever graced Pittsburgh, and their praises of local institutions were unstinted, although the city government was not represented in their welcome. Col. Homer J. Lindsay of the Carnegie Steel Company doing the honors of entertainment.

There are over 200 persons in the party and they are traveling under the personal direction of Congressman Richard Bartholdt, chairman of the committee on inter-parliamentary union. He has 15 nationalities represented in his passenger list and is obliged to cater to members of the British parliament, members of the French chamber of deputies, members of the German reichstag and a score of other officials of various governments. While the train was being restocked with provisions at the Union station yesterday afternoon Mr. Bartholdt sent a 500-word telegram to the Southern hotel, St. Louis, engaging rooms for the party. He told the members they would have to "double up," as St. Louis is badly crowded.

"Pardon, monsieur," cried a French deputy, "I want ze apartment wiz ze running wa-ter to myself alone and wiz ze parlor apartment in ze front."

An Italian count also objected.

They finally subsided when he told them 10 Democrats slept in each room when "M. Judge Parker" was nominated.

One of the leaders of the foreign representatives is the Hon. Philip Stanhope, president of the English group in the British parliament and a brother of Earl Stanhope.

"We are charmed with the signs of prosperity and thrift which we have seen in this busy city," he said. "I have traveled the world over, but nowhere have I found a city just like this. It differs as much from Philadelphia as it differs from Berlin, Cairo or Paris. It is distinctly an American city and possesses all the characteristics of western sturdiness and energy which we naturally associate with American customs. I regret that we did not have the pleasure of meeting some of its official representatives. Your mayor is absent, I believe. Two of your Scotland yard men, Messrs. Lally and Demmel, whom I had the pleasure to meet, were the only representatives of the municipal administration who honored our party with their presence."

The Hon. J. W. Spear, member of parliament from the Devonshire county district, was accompanied by his two daughters.

"We cannot say what has interested us most," he said. "We have steel mills in Sheffield, but at Homestead and Braddock we saw fewer men turn out a greater product than in England. American mills have been built comparatively recently and have all the advantages of improvements in labor-saving machinery."

ROOSEVELT MAKES GIFT TO OYSTER BAY LIBRARY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt has presented to the Oyster Bay free library the executive chair which he used when governor of New York. The gift also included volumes of historical value to the state of New York. The chair, which is of mahogany, rosewood, upholstered in green, was used by Roosevelt by the state of Albany from the office of governor.

BLEW COLUMN TO FRAGMENTS

Detachment of 700 Japanese Annihilated by a Russian Mine.

SIGHT WAS GHASTLY

Searchlight Revealed Hillside and Road Strewn With Dismembered Bodies.

ONLY A HANDFUL ESCAPED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

CHEFOO, Sept. 9.—A Japanese column, numbering approximately 700 men, while marching along at night on a road in the valley between Long Hill and Division Hill, met a frightful disaster through the explosion of an electric land mine, September 1.

The mine was carefully laid by the Russians three weeks ago and covered nearly a mile of available marching space. The explosive was placed at the bottom. Rocks were placed next, and on top of these clay was packed so carefully that the ground gave the impression of not having been disturbed.

The indications of Japanese activity in this vicinity put the Russians on guard. Near midnight the outposts rushed in and reported that the Japanese were approaching. The Russians withheld their fire for some time. Suddenly they threw a searchlight up the valley. The Japanese opened with a rifle fire. The Russians waited until apparently the whole Japanese column was in the danger zone. Then the mine was exploded.

The force of the explosion knocked a number of Russians down, and the sight of Japanese rifles, water-bottles, legs and arms hurling through the lighted space made by the searchlight, was an awful spectacle. Some rocks landed inside the Russian lines. There was one appalling moment, during which the garrison itself was stunned, then a deathlike silence. The searchlight coldly lighted up the road and hillsides strewn with dead. The following day the Russians buried the dead, but owing to their dismembered and mutilated condition they were unable to accurately estimate the number of killed. A few Japanese escaped, however.

The foregoing information is contained in a small sheet issued September 3 by the Port Arthur Novakrai, a breakage in the press having made it impossible to issue a full edition. On the nights of August 26 and 27 a similar disaster befell the Japanese near Redoubt No. 2, it is reported, but no details have been ascertained.

Apparently well-informed Japanese who reached Chefoo from Port Dalny yesterday report that the Japanese army before Port Arthur is preparing to make another assault on the fortress.

Japanese agents here are sending to Port Dalny 70,000 gunnysacks, and are endeavoring to secure 60,000 more. It is reported that these sacks are to be filled with sand and used to fill up portions of the moat protecting the Russian right flank.

The Chinese report that the Russians are paying 50 cents each for unexploded shells manufactured for use during the Chinese-Japanese war. The persistency of this report during the past two weeks entitles it to considerable consideration, as indicating a shortage of large ammunition at Port Arthur.

Chinese who left Port Arthur on Monday arrived here today. They report that severe fighting occurred September 3 on the east and west flanks. The Russians allowed them to approach within a short distance, when they opened a heavy fire and compelled the Japanese to retreat after three hours' fighting.

Fired on Red Cross.

At 6 a. m., August 27, during a severe attack, Col. Kirikoff, commanding the Fourteenth regiment, ordered a detachment to remove the dead and care for the wounded near an unnamed fort on the east flank. When within rifle distance of the Japanese the Russians hoisted a Red Cross flag. The Japanese gave inviting signs with their caps, whereupon the Russians, thinking that all was well, continued forward. However, when the detachment had reached the dead the Japanese opened fire on them, fatally wounding a petty officer. The Russian detachment thereupon retired.

Capt. Spanoff, who commanded the detachment, thinking that the Japanese had mistakenly fired, and seeing further beckoning signs by the Japanese, ordered the detachment out a second time. The Red Cross flag was again hoisted, but the Japanese again fired and wounded one private. The detachment again retired and the attempt to remove the dead was abandoned.

During August 28 a peculiar contrast to the warlike proceedings on the east flank was presented on the west flank by the Chinese, who had resumed work in the fields as though war did not exist. Chinese report the death at Chao-Chan-Ko of a Japanese general, but the Novakrai was unable to learn his name.

The Japanese ammunition depot at Litungau has been destroyed by Russian shells. From August 27 to August 29 the Russians buried, under a severe fire, 700 decomposing Japanese bodies on the northeast front in order to prevent a pestilence.

JAPANESE HOLD UP FRENCH MAIL BOAT

MARSEILLES, Sept. 8.—The commander of the French mail steamer Oceanien, on arriving at Marseilles today from Yokohama, complained that his vessel was held up by four Japanese warships outside of Yokohama, and that she was detained and searched for five hours.

SEABOARD AIR LINE TRAIN THROUGH TRESTLE

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 9.—Passenger train No. 41 on the Seaboard Air line is reported as going through a trestle at Catawba river, South Carolina, early this morning. Six coaches went down. No particulars at present. Extra train with doctors going from Monroe.

CZAR'S FIGHTING BLOOD IS UP

Will Reorganize Russia's Forces by the Creation of Two Armies.

PLANS UNDER WAY

Generals Linevitch and Baron Kaulbars Are Slated for the Commands.

MAY SUPERSEDE KUROPATKIN

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Sept. 8.—The terrible rains hinder the movements of both armies, but there is an interesting movement toward Tie-Ling, north of Mukden.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Col. Caedke, war correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt, telegraphs that Mukden was still held by the Russians this morning.

MUKDEN, Wednesday, Sept. 7.—(Night.—Delayed in Transmission.)—The fighting has ceased and the Russian transport and army are moving without interruption. There is much uncertainty concerning the movements and purposes of the Japanese. It is impossible to say definitely yet whether there will be another battle here or further north. Gen. Kuropatkin evidently is not seeking to renew the battle, but if challenged he will not decline an engagement.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin, timed 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening, was received here late today. He reported that Gen. Kuroki's army was about 27 miles west of the railroad, and that he had not lost a gun on his retreat. The general staff expects that a big battle will soon be fought.

Two New Russian Armies.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 9.—Besides the formation of two fresh army corps as the first answer to the Japanese success at Liao-Yang, the Russian army at the front will be reorganized, probably in the form of two armies, in command of Gen. Linevitch and Gen. Baron Kaulbars, respectively, with Gen. Kuropatkin as commander-in-chief.

Gen. Kaulbars will go out with the two army corps now organizing in the governments of Kazan, Odessa, Vilna and Kieff. Gen. Linevitch has been ordered by telegraph from Vladivostok to Mukden. This decision is due in part, doubtless, to the growing unwieldiness of the big force under Gen. Kuropatkin's command, which will be largely increased by constant reinforcements.

Gen. Kuropatkin heretofore has handled every detail of the vast organization. The work is too much for one man, and he is now almost broken down under the strain. It is known that the emperor is personally one of Kuropatkin's strong supporters, and it is thought the general will in all probability retain chief command of the two armies. Kuropatkin, however, has been seriously criticised by some of the emperor's closest military advisers, and it is possible that he may eventually be superceded.

The best information of the war office indicates that Gen. Kuropatkin lost about 17,000 men during the 10 days' battle at Liao-Yang.

There is little information from the front tonight. A dispatch from Mukden, bearing Thursday's date, repeats the story of bad roads which have hampered the transport, and intimates that there is an "interesting movement towards Tie-Ling," but the nature of this movement is not disclosed.

It is understood that the emperor's inspection of the Baltic fleet at Cronstadt today is the last he will make, and that the fleet when it leaves Libau will proceed to the far east.

WILL RALLY AROUND BRYAN WHEN PARKER FADES AWAY

D. D. Woodmansee Makes a Prediction for Democratic Party—Vermont Told the Story.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A meeting of the Roosevelt and Fairbanks National Commercial league was held at 506 Broadway today, at which D. D. Woodmansee of Cincinnati, former president of the National League of Republican Clubs, was the main speaker. He said:

"The Democrats are counting on dissensions in this state to carry it for Parker. We can elect Theodore Roosevelt without New York. Indiana and Wisconsin, but we are going to carry them all. Ohio will give the Republican candidates 75,000 majority next November. They are already elected, and Vermont has told the story.

"If Bryan's book was read in any Democratic meeting today two-thirds of the audience would get up and walk out. After Parker and the others have faded away, Bryan will be there, and he will renew the doctrines of 1896 and 1900 and the Democrats will rally around him."

Largest Check Ever Issued by State.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The largest check ever issued by the state of Pennsylvania was that forwarded by State Treasurer Mathues to City Treasurer Schock today for $1,500,000, being Philadelphia's share of the $1,600,000 in personal property tax for the present year.

Would Displace Alexieff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—The Novoe Vremya today published an editorial urging the appointment of Gen. Kuropatkin as commander-in-chief of the Russian forces in the far east. Evidently this was aimed at Viceroy Alexieff, who has repeatedly been represented as interfering with Kuropatkin's plans.

San Diego Has Earthquake Shock.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Sept. 8.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt here today, lasting several seconds. It was followed by a slighter and briefer disturbance.

WEPT OVER THEIR SLAIN COMRADES

Japanese Slaughtered a Body of Their Own Troops by Mistake.

LIAO-YANG WAS AN INFERNO

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, in a graphic description of the fighting at Liao-Yang, says:

"Only the Russian soldiers' traditional splendid qualities enabled them to support the terrible conditions, of which the lack of sleep was the most unbearable. The Japanese availed themselves to the utmost of rain and darkness, and did not cease fighting, their night attacks testing Russian endurance severely.

"The Japanese suffered terribly, but made light of their losses. They continually drafted fresh reserves into the ranks to replace the worn-out men. Indeed, the numerical superiority of the Japanese is astounding and incomprehensible, for after losing enough men at Port Arthur and elsewhere to form a perfect army, their effective strength appears only to increase, and they still are concentrating fresh bodies of troops on the Liao river.

"The battlefield was a perfect inferno. Gen. Stakelberg was wounded, but, despising death, he remained immovable at his post throughout the day, regardless of the rain of shot around him. Several officers of his staff were killed or wounded. In the evening Gen. Stakelberg notified Gen. Kuropatkin that he could hold the position, or take the offensive if necessary.

Among the incidents of the day was the slaughter of two Japanese battalions which were pursued through the Chinese corn and grass to Saitza and surrounded by the Russians. They resolutely refused to accept quarter, preferring death.

"In another part of the field the Japanese shelled and captured by assault one of the Russian trenches, only to find too late that it had been abandoned by the Russians and occupied by their comrades. They fell upon the prostrate bodies and flooded them with tears.

"In one case a party of Japanese officers found a body of their men retiring in disorder, and drove them back to the battlefield at the point of the sword.

"The Russian frontier guards died at their posts, refusing to surrender. It was the anniversary of the creation of their regiment, which they had celebrated the previous night. They lost a large proportion of their officers.

"At many points the combatants stoned each other.

"Of late the Russians have learned to mask their batteries more effectually, and thus have gained a sensible advantage over the Japanese. The Russians worship their guns, even to Gen. Kuropatkin's admonition, 'Soldiers, die for your guns as you would for your flag.'

"The pits which the Russians had dug in the Chinese corn, and the grass were filled with Japanese corpses, which were trodden over by their comrades. The ground was so thickly strewn with bodies in one fight that the Japanese raised a white flag and sought permission to bury their dead, but this was refused. The air became polluted with the stench.

"The Russian evacuation of the forts and entrenchments was carried without loss. The troops crossed the river on pontoon and railway bridges in perfect order and safety, burning the bridges after them.

"Liao-Yang is enveloped in flames and clouds of smoke from the conflagration, which is visible as far as Yen-Tai.

"The countryside is swarming with Chinese fugitives."

LIAO-YANG FIGHT WAS TERRIFIC ONE

London Times Correspondent Sends Graphic Account of Action of Japanese Left.

DEAD BY THE THOUSANDS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Times correspondent with the Japanese left army, describing the operations at Liao-Yang September 1, says:

"The general impression was that we had only to advance and occupy the town, but Gens. Nodzu's and Oku's armies required a day's rest. In 50 hours Oku had made four general assaults which had failed, and he had subsisted through the inclement weather on rations carried on the person, while reserve ammunition required replenishing.

"The Russians had fallen back in good order, taking with them everything except some 200 of their latest dead, while the only prisoners to fall into the hands of the Japanese were seven men who were entombed in an observation mine casement on a brush-covered hill. A Japanese storming party had piled sandbags over the orifice of the casement. It was an extraordinary incident, for the entombed Russians had shot two officers who wished to parley with them, and eventually surrendered 36 hours later in a horrible state.

"I will not dwell on the sickening and harrowing sights of the battlefield, except to mention one incident. The Japanese stormers had penetrated the highest trench, and had overpowered the Cossacks holding it, but supports from a splinter-proof shelter behind had fallen with their bayonets on the gallant Japanese in the moment of their success and the bodies of both Japanese and Cossacks were piled thick upon each other in a hideous heap.

"The casualties of the Japanese in five divisions at the lowest computation were not less than 10,000, and they were probably many more, for owing to the crops of millet many of the wounded have not been found and they must have died miserably, while many bodies will never be found until the crops are cut."

Russian Losses Half of Japan's.

"It is impossible to estimate the Russian losses, which probably are half those of the Japanese. It must be remembered that my estimate of the latter does not include the tenth division or Kuroki's.

"Just before sundown there was a full Russian response to the Japanese fire. Trains have been seen leaving all during the day. Again the rear guard having completed its duty retired."

The correspondent refers to one of Oku's artillery attacks as one of the most severe concentrated artillery fires the world has ever seen. Every gun belonging to two of the Japanese corps was trained in rapid fire on the left of Kuropatkin's position.

The correspondent says:

"It was a magnificent and withal an awe-inspiring spectacle. The Russian godowns were set on fire as were the station buildings and nothing could live under the attack. The end of the Russian resistance had come and the Russian gunners rested from their work of devastation and slaughter, when suddenly out of the midst of the smoke and murky dust left from the reeking shrapnel came counter flashes from two or three Russian batteries. One almost felt inclined to cheer, but it seemed that it was their last effort—a magnificent farewell to the enemy whom they had balked for so long.

"We had evidence that Liao-Yang would be abandoned, but it seemed certain that though defeated and forced by superior numbers and superior artillery and to some extent by superior troops, Kuropatkin had in turn defeated Japanese strategy for, as fast as we could learn or judge by the direction of the fire, Kuroki was still fighting to get astride the Russian communications.

Oku Makes Another Assault.

"That evening the remaining Russians in the trenches still kept the Japanese at bay, but the iron-minded Oku little reeking that his fierce assaults had already cost close upon 20,000 men, determined upon a final enveloping assault on this stubborn rear guard. The last reserves were pushed in and at 5 o'clock in the morning, after five days of the most severe fighting the world has ever seen since the American civil war, the Japanese army seized the railway bridge and was in occupation of Liao-Yang.

"No resource known to modern engineers for field works had been overlooked. It was evident from the outset that Oku's previous successes had caused him to despise the staying power of the enemy, for without waiting for adequate preparations he pushed his infantry down to the limit of the standing crops which had not come under the Russians' precautionary sickles.

"The Russian tactics at Liao-Yang were a revelation for which Oku had to pay dearly."

Describing the failure of some of the Japanese infantry attacks the correspondent says: "The Japanese art of war counsels persistency and they have material that can be persistent. Despite the failure of the first attack on the 30th the cold gray of morning witnessed another scene of slaughter on the Russian right as the defenders again hurled back the attack. The Japanese deserved success, but an enfilading fire swept each rush away before the men could even lay hands on the entanglements."

Graphically picturing the ebb and flow of the conflict on August 31, the correspondent continues:

Three Assaults in 24 Hours.

"Oku was growing desperate. From the position of the Fifth division it was evident that the Tenth division and Kuroki were making no headway, so Oku determined upon the third general assault on that night. Just think of it—a third assault in 24 hours. All day he had been moving reserves up into the fighting line and the assault was but a repetition of previous ones.

"Except at one portion of the line there was gruesome evidence on the following morning to show how like hares in snares the heroic infantry had struggled into the barbed wire entanglements to die—how, blundering in the darkness, sections had thrown themselves down 30 yards from the flaring line of muzzles, whose flashes marked the goal they were never to win; but the First battalion of the Thirty-fourth regiment, which for 48 hours had been lying in the scrub at the foot of the green glacis on the center hill broke through the entanglements, and, in spite of a flanking fire which swept away group after group, had enough endurance to reach the first trench. What happened there no one knows, but in the morning when we viewed the position Russians and Japanese were lying intermingled waist deep in the ditch, while from parapet to entanglements, perhaps for 150 yards, a thick trail of prostrate khaki told a tale no pen can describe.

"Everywhere again the assault had failed. Divisional telephones told headquarters the desperate news, and the laconic reply was, 'Reinforce and assault again before daybreak,' but the curtain had already fallen on the first act of the drama.

"Whether shaken by the repeated attacks, fearful for his left flank, or finding that Kuroki could be held only with difficulty from his communications, Kuropatkin, who was present in person, countenanced a general withdrawal from the positions, and about midnight he fell back to the third line, leaving seven prisoners in the Japanese hands."

LUTHERAN CLERGY HAVE GOOD TIME IN RIVERVIEW PARK, ALLEGHENY

Disputs Over the Score.

LUTHERANS HELD OUTING IN PARK

The Rev. Dr. Edwin Heyl Delk of Philadelphia Delivers an Address.

PREACHERS PLAYED BASEBALL

Members of the Lutheran Ministerial Association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, with their relatives and friends to the number of 300, held a reunion yesterday in Riverview park, Allegheny. A praise service was held in the morning in what is known as the chapel. In the afternoon the Rev. Dr. Edwin Heyl Delk, pastor of St. Matthew's church, Philadelphia, spoke on "A Visiting Idealist in Pittsburgh."

Dr. Delk criticised the men of great wealth, especially those in the east, who spend enormous sums for luxuries, and much smaller amounts for charities and churches. He spoke of one New Yorker who paid $700 a week for hotel accommodations, and held that this was needless extravagance. Dr. Delk also referred to the small salary received by the average clergyman, and declared that reform in this respect was urgent.

Later in the afternoon a ball game was played between teams representing Lutheran clergymen of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Perhaps it was fortunate that rain stopped the game at the end of the fourth inning, as there was some danger of contention over the score. While no violence was used, the first umpire was forced to retire at the end of the first inning, the players becoming dissatisfied with his decisions. The Pittsburghers claimed that they secured a majority of the runs made, but the official score could not be found.

One run was made under conditions that will recommend themselves, perhaps, to major league teams. When the rain began to pour down, all the fielders sought shelter. The man at bat and the pitcher and catcher alone remained. The batter hit a nice little fly to first base, but there was no one there, and he scored a home run. That ended the game.

PRINCESS LOUISE IS NOW IN PARIS

Hotel Waiter and Bribed Night Watchman Made Her Escape Easy.

SHE AWAITS HUSBANDS OFFERS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Princess Louise of Coburg and Lieut. Count Mattasich-Keglevich are stopping in the Central quarter of Paris, but their exact location is carefully concealed. The princess, however, received a friend of Count Mattasich-Keglevich, a journalist, and told to him the story of her escape from Bad-Elster.

The count, she said, contrived to convey messages to her through a hotel waiter. When all was arranged the princess left the hotel at 2 o'clock in the morning, and the night watchman having been bribed, he saw nothing. A carriage was waiting for her in which she drove to Hof, where she took a train for Berlin and there remained concealed for two days.

The princess said that she intended to reach the French frontier by automobile, but, owing to frequent breakdowns, decided to take a train at Hildesheim, Prussia, for Cologne, where she took a sleeping car for Paris. While crossing Belgian territory she said a railroad official recognized the count, but did not disturb the fugitives.

The princess said she intended to lead a simple, retired life, but that she would not decide the details until she had received her husband's proposals, which would be brought to her Saturday.

POPE PIUS RECEIVES LARGE BODY OF FRENCH PILGRIMS

Speaks in Pacific Terms and Does Not Answer Premier Combes.

ROME, Sept. 8.—The pope today received 1,500 French pilgrims, mostly priests and nuns, led by M. Harmel, a well-known manufacturer, who delivered an address to the pontiff. The latter in reply said the reception was most important, being the first French pilgrimage to visit Rome since the conflict between France and the vatican. Heretofore all pilgrimages had been postponed in order to avoid complications.

In his discourse the pope thanked the pilgrims for the loyalty and devotion they had manifested not only in words but by deeds. He added:

"You, descendants of the sons of France, who were unreservedly faithful to the church, unreservedly devoted to the chair of St. Peter, and always ready to defend and propagate truth and goodness, will not be degenerate heirs. In spite of the difficulties and sacrifices, especially at the present time, you must face, be always generous minded, with the certain knowledge that you will thus be working not only for your own happiness, but for the prosperity of your country."

After reviewing the historic connections between France and the vatican, the pontiff said:

"France is always, notwithstanding all that has happened, most dear to our heart. If necessary, we are ready to endure again sufferings to ensure the welfare and greatness of your country."

The pope concluded with urging the pilgrims to remain firmly attached to the church and to strive for true prosperity.

GETS AFTER LYNCHERS.

Acting Governor Cunningham, of Alabama Will Probe the Affair at Huntsville.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Aug. 8.—Acting Governor Cunningham today wrote to Circuit Judge Speake at Huntsville, suggesting that he convene a special grand jury to investigate the lynching of Maples. He also called on Sheriff Rodgers for a full report of the lynching. A third letter was written Capt. R. L. Hay, in charge of the militia, asking him to explain why the mob was not deterred from its purpose, from whom Capt. Hay got orders, and to what extent he exercised the authority vested in him.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA., Sept. 8.—Judge Speake today ordered a special grand jury to convene at once to investigate the lynching of the negro Maples.

DALANEY IS CONSECRATED BISHOP OF MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 8.—With elaborate ceremonial, the Rev. John B. Delaney of this city today was consecrated bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Manchester. The services, which took place in the cathedral, were attended by many leading ecclesiastics, including Monsignor Falconio, papal delegate in the United States, who pontificated at the high mass and officiated as consecrator. The consecration sermon was preached by Rev. Father William F. Gannon, S. J., president of Boston college.

COLORED REPUBLICANS TO HOLD NATIONAL MEETING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The executive committee of the Lincoln Republican National league, colored, met to-day and decided to issue a call for a national convention of the league and its auxiliaries at Charleston, W. Va., October 10, for the purpose of arranging for an active canvass of the colored voters in all states and doubtful congressional districts.

Mrs. David Timothy Is Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd Timothy, aged 40, wife of David Timothy, a well-known salesman for the H. J. Heinz Company, died yesterday afternoon at the family home, 232 Miller street, Knoxville. She was a daughter of David Lloyd, a Montana prospector. She is survived by two children, Clive and Edgar, a sister, Mrs. Martha Evans, of the South Side, and a brother. Funeral services will be held at her late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THREW ACID IN A GIRL'S FACE

American Biscuit Company Officer Posts $500 Reward for Miscreant's Capture.

RANSACK MILLIONAIRE'S HOME

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Tonight Benjamin F. Crawford, an officer of the American Biscuit Company, offered a reward of $500 for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of the burglar or burglars who last night threw carbolic acid in the face of his sister-in-law, Miss Mabel MacPherson, at the Crawford home last night. Mr. Crawford is in grim earnest in his effort to run down the miscreants who so nearly killed the girl in their raid upon his house, and the notices of the reward were sent broadcast today.

Miss MacPherson's physicians announced today that she will not be disfigured permanently by the burns, but the scars will probably remain red for six months.

The Crawfords are among the wealthiest and most prominent of the Evanston millionaires' colony and social leaders.

The story of the crime comes piecemeal from Miss MacPherson, her sister, her brother-in-law and the servants, with the brother-in-law as the spokesman. There had been a dinner party at the Crawford home, at which there were a dozen guests, to celebrate the anniversary of Mr. Crawford's 51st birthday. After the guests had left the members of the family remained up until 11:30 o'clock. There were in the house Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, Mr. Crawford's daughter and Miss MacPherson, two maid servants and a gardener.

About 1 o'clock Mr. Crawford was aroused by a scream and heard Miss MacPherson crying that there were burglars in the house. He ran into the hall, where in the dim light he saw the girl standing in her night clothes, then hurried down stairs. There in one room he found one of his daughter's garments, upon which were piled some jewels and trinkets taken from her room. Mr. Crawford went to the telephone and called for the police, and in a few minutes officers were on their way to the house. Then he went back upstairs and found Miss MacPherson lying on the floor in her room, frantic and hysterical with pain. Rousing the other members of the family, Mr. Crawford carried the girl to her bed and summoned a doctor.

When a physician had come and she had been somewhat relieved and the torture lessened she told her story. She was awakened about 1 o'clock by some one moving about the room. Thinking it might be some member of the family, she spoke to him. A man, whom she could see dimly, turned upon her and said threateningly, "You keep still or I'll burn your eyes out." The girl fell back upon the bed trembling and watched the intruder ransack the drawers of the bureau, turn over everything upon the dressing table and pass out of the room. The girl sprang from her bed with a scream to arouse the family, when she was caught by a second man she had not seen before, thrown back upon the bed and the acid dashed over her.

CZAR IS CONCILIATORY.

Favors Views on Contraband as Expressed in Notes Presented by America and England.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—The question of contraband of war, as contained in the American and British notes, was presented to the emperor yesterday by the commission which has been considering the subject. There were present the ministers for foreign affairs, justice, marine and war.

Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who throughout has been favorable to the American and British contentions, made a strong argument in support of his position, and was warmly seconded by M. Muravieff, minister of justice. An opinion by Prof. De Martens, professor of international law at the University of St. Petersburg, also favorable, was presented.

No decision was reached, but the emperor plainly manifested his sympathy with Count Lamsdorff's view, and at the conclusion of the audience urged the advisability of a prompt decision.

GRANT OUTWITS GENERAL BELL

Strategical Move by Blue Commander Is Unknown to the Brown Army.

BATTLE IS EXPECTED TODAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CORPS HEADQUARTERS, GAINESVILLE, VA., Sept. 8.—Gen. Grant, commanding the Blue army, has taken up a strong position behind Bull Run. This fact has not yet been ascertained by Gen. Bell, commanding the attacking Brown army. The latter's advance along the Wellington pike was harassed just west of Pageland lane by the First brigade of Gen. Grant's army, under Gen. Wint. Gen. Bell opposed this force with his First brigade, under Gen. Lee. Supposing it was his adversary's center, he threw the brigades of Barry, Regan and Smith to the right of Lee, seemingly in an effort to get around what would be the original left wing of the Blue army. When nightfall came at 3 o'clock this had not been accomplished, owing to the distance the main line of the Blue army was behind its rear guard, or Wint's brigade.

Gen. Grant selected the position behind Bull Run, in which to defend Washington, in order that it might be as easy as possible for his reinforcements, which are on the way, to join him. His position is not what Gen. Bell evidently has calculated on in ordering his turning movement, so the situation to be developed tomorrow is one of exceeding interest. For this reason Gen. Bell's army is as yet fully two miles from the main position of his adversary and his advance is being opposed by a single brigade.

End Comes Today.

Gen. Corbin has traversed the lines of both armies today, giving particular attention to the condition of the men. When the two armies come into actual contact tomorrow, if this should be the case before 3 o'clock, Gen. Corbin will declare the maneuver at an end in order that the men may get in condition for the review Saturday.

So far as the war problem is concerned, the benefit to the men and officers lies in the maneuvering for position. When the forces collide the respective strength each side in each locality has decides the advantage rather than the shooting of blank cartridges.

The fighting between the two First brigades of each army today resulted in forcing the Blue brigade back through a strip of woods it had occupied just south of the Wellington pike and west of Pageland lane. Artillery was used by the Brown army in this action, the fire being directed into the woods. This was followed up by the advance of the Brown line and the falling back of the Blue under the direction of the umpires.

The delay of the march to position until 9 o'clock today is a matter of complaint on the part of the Brown troops, as many as 100 prostrations from the heat having been reported among the Browns, who were compelled to move in the middle of the day. These men have been cared for in the hospitals of camps Nos. 2 and 3, and in the farmhouses along the road.

The Problem Outlined.

The problem now being worked out is as follows:

This time the Brown army is the aggressor. It is to strike the Blue army soon, as a preliminary operation against the capital at Washington.

Gen. Grant has taken up a defensive position in the Bull Run valley. His instructions are to hold this position until reinforcements (imaginary) can reach him from Annandale. These reinforcements, according to the conditions imposed, cannot reach him in much less time than 48 hours.

Gen. Bell is assumed to have reinforcements at Salem, distant about 12 hours. He is moving his force forward to the defense with the object of holding Grant, if possible, in his present position until his reinforcements can reach him, and then overwhelm him before the Blue reinforcements arrive.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Allegheny Preparatory school reopens September 21, 1904. The head master will be at the school office after September 8, between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., to meet and classify pupils, to talk with intending patrons and to show those who may wish to see them the building and equipment. The school provides instruction for boys and girls from the first year of school life till they are ready for any American college or university. The work is done by 15 expert teachers.

A well equipped gymnasium and a large playground, under the exclusive control of the school, offer ample opportunity for sports and games. These are individual "corrective work," under trained directors, give the physical development of both boys and girls its due emphasis. Oral expression, singing, reading aloud, public speaking and debates have their proper place in the curriculum.

Owing to its non-commercial character, the entire income of the school can be applied in making the school better. The building has just been redecorated throughout.

For our new circular and any further information, address the head master, Wilmot R. Jones, 900 Lincoln Avenue, Allegheny, Pa.

LABOR CHIEF DECLARES WORKMEN FAVOR ROOSEVELT

After Traveling in West Virgina, He Says the Republican Majority There Will be Increased.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 8.—Charles W. Stanglen of Baltimore, supreme chief of the car inspectors, car builders and railway mechanics of America and chairman of the conference committee of the railway employes of Maryland, is here conferring with the members of his order. He says:

From the standpoint of the laboring class there is no doubt of the election of Roosevelt and Fairbanks with the majorities that characterized the last two campaigns. The working class is almost unanimously for the Republican nominees. Both Roosevelt and Fairbanks are well and favorably known, while, on the other hand, Parker and Davis are comparative strangers to the great masses of the people who are, this campaign, determined to let well enough alone. I have traveled considerably in West Virginia lately and it is my honest belief that the Republican majority there will be larger than ever.

AUTO KEEPS UP ITS BAD RECORD

Crashes Into Park Trap and Seriously Injures Two Women and a Man.

HAD ALREADY MADE A KILLING

Three persons were hurled from a park trap, one was seriously injured and a chauffeur was placed under arrest as the result of a collision with an automobile at Penn and Lang avenues about 8:15 o'clock last evening. Those hurt were:

MISS DORA MURDOCK, No. 1038 Reynolds street; cut on the forehead and scalp, and bruised about the body.

MISS CARRIE MURDOCK, No. 1038 Reynolds street; shoulder wrenched and suffering from the shock.

C. B. LAWTON, No. 201 Denniston avenue; bruised about the body.

The police stated that George Munson of 6030 Station street, the chauffeur, told them after his arrest that the automobile was the same one. The chauffeur, who was driving the machine, said it belonged to A. P. Shumaker of 933 North Highland avenue and Architect Titus De Bobula.

C. B. Lawton of the Mortgage Banking Company was driving with the Misses Carrie and Dora Murdock of 1038 Reynolds street, East End. Miss Carrie Lawton was driving on the way up Lang avenue and the automobile was spinning into the city down Penn. Neither the chauffeur nor the driver of the carriage could stop quickly, and the two vehicles crashed together. Mr. Lawton was thrown into the street, turning a complete somersault. Miss Dora Murdock landed about 10 feet from the carriage in the middle of the street car track, and Miss Carrie fell close beside her sister.

Stephen Flannery, a stranger, was standing on that corner. He rushed out and grabbed the horse, preventing its running away. Munson assisted Flannery and firemen of No. 16 engine house in caring for the injured. The three were assisted to a drug store. The women were then taken to their home nearby and a physician was called. None of the occupants of the buggy were rendered unconscious. Miss Dora sustained a severe wound on the right side of the head, and the others were badly jolted and bruised.

Lieut. Edward McPoland was not far from the place where the accident occurred, and with Officer Samuel Rogers placed Munson under arrest. They took him to the East End police station in the touring car. He was charged with reckless driving. Munson refused to tell who was with him in the auto at the time of the accident. The occupants of the carriage maintained that there were two men in it, and one is supposed to have leaped and run immediately after the crash. Flannery also says that there were two persons in the car.

The Misses Murdock are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Murdock. They are Sunday school pupils of Mr. Lawton. Miss Dora has been ill for some time, and last evening was the first time she has been outside her home for three months. It is feared the accident may affect her more eventually owing to her weak condition following the illness.

The horse belonged to Mr. Lawton. It was injured seriously, the lamp on the machine having cut a deep gash in a front leg. The carriage was not damaged.

JAMES M'KAY MAY ENTER THE CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Democratic Leaders in the Twenty-Ninth District Want Him to Become a Candidate.

James McKay is considering a proposition from the Democratic leaders to become a candidate for congressman in the Twenty-ninth district. It is probable that he will consent to make the run.

"I am trying to decide whether I want to shine in congress," said James McKay last night. "The leaders think that I am the man to nominate in this district and have been urging me to accept the nomination. I now have a couple of woodsmen at work on a platform and if they chop out a reasonable kind of a structure, I may consent to enter the fight."

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY.

Monongahela Valley Union Holds Its Quarterly Meeting and Elects Officers.

The 34th quarterly rally of the chapters of the Monongahela Valley Epworth league union was held last evening in the Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal church, North Braddock. About 800 were present from 27 chapters. The chapter was shown by the reports to have had an encouraging growth during the year. The Rev. McIlvar H. Lichliter of Apollo made an address.

These officers were elected: President, W. H. Jones; first vice president, Nathan Shipley; second vice president, Robert Harbaugh; third vice president, Miss Jean Stevenson; fourth vice president, Miss Bertha Law; secretary, Miss Grace Howard; treasurer, Miss Catherine Allen. The new officers were installed at the close of the literary program, and an address by the Rev. William J. Lowstuter.

SON PROSECUTES FATHER.

Asserts That His Parent Has Committed Bigamy and Has a Wife in England.

Edward Bailey, a foreman at the plant of the Union Switch and Signal Company in Swissvale, was lodged in jail for court yesterday on a charge of bigamy preferred by his son, Edward Bailey, Jr., before Justice Jaquay of Rankin.

The elder Bailey is 51 years old and was married in the office of Justice Jaquay on Sunday last to Mrs. Sarah A. Thomas of Braddock. It is alleged the couple were arranging to leave yesterday for Oregon when Bailey's son learned of his marriage and made the charge of bigamy against him. It is alleged Bailey has a wife and eight children living in England.

CHINESE EDITOR ADRESSES PITTSBURGH MONGOLIANS

To 30 members of the Chinese Masonic order, Sun Yat Sen, editor of a Hongkong newspaper, explained yesterday afternoon at Moorhead hall the ripeness of political conditions in China for a revolution to establish a republic like that of the United States. The meeting was presided over by Lee Cok Tong of this city.

Independent Telephone Men to Meet.

Representatives of the independent telephone companies of Pennsylvania will meet in convention at Harrisburg, September 27 and 28. The Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company was represented at a meeting of the executive committee at that city yesterday by President J. G. Spiane. The national convention is to be held at St. Louis, September 21. The association is for the purpose of securing co-operation in business by the non-Bell companies in the state and country.

Kicked by a Stranger.

John Saul of Columbia place, Allegheny, is in St. John's General hospital, suffering from the result of a kick given him several days ago by a man whom Saul says he does not know. According to Saul's story, he resented an insult offered a young woman in West park by the stranger, and in a scuffle that followed was kicked. His removal to the hospital was ordered yesterday, and an operation will likely be necessary.

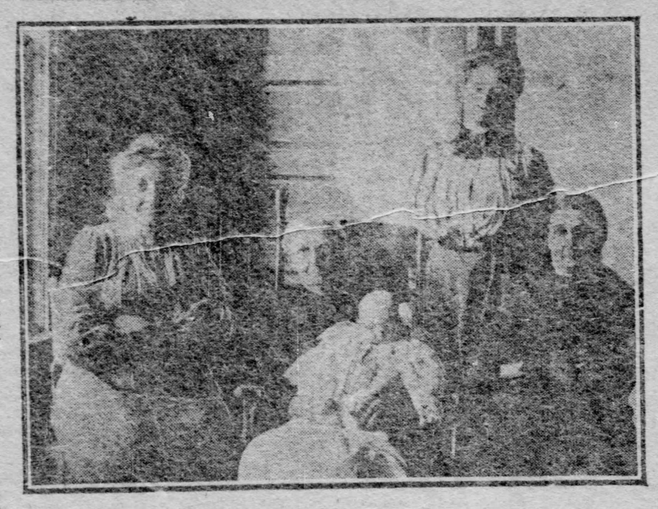
MRS. MARY E. CUNNINGHAM, AGED 91, LEAVES FOUR LIVING GENERATIONS



Reading from left to right are Mrs. Thomas Seaman, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Mary E. Cunningham, aged 91, who is seated in the center; Mrs. Bessie Scott, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Seaman, and Mrs. William H. Seaman, mother of Thomas Seaman, and Ethel, the child, is a daughter of Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Mary E. Cunningham, aged 91, died of old age Wednesday night at the home of her son-in-law, William H. Seaman, at Leetsdale. Mrs. Cunningham was born in Eastern Pennsylvania January 30, 1814, and came to Pittsburgh when a young woman. She was married to Mattmas Cunningham and six children were born to the union, two of whom are still living, Mrs. W. H. Seaman of Leetsdale, and Thomas of Jeannette. She is survived by 23 grandchildren, 90 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild. For 48 years Mrs. Cunningham made her home with her son-in-law, and in that time never was sick a day. Funeral services will be held at her late home at 1 o'clock p. m. today. Interment will be made in Sewickley.

WARM FAREWELL GIVEN TO JUDGE

Charles F. McKenna and His Wife Leave Pittsburgh for Porto Rico.

LARGE CROWD AT THE STATION

"It looks as if it might be my bridal trip," said Judge Charles F. McKenna.

The new United States judge of the district of Porto Rico made the remark at the East Liberty station last night. As he spoke he ran his hands through his gray hair and a shower of rice fell from his locks. He brushed his coat, and a cloud of confetti, the Pittsburgh variety, colored paper cut into bits, floated from the garment.

It required the aid of several policemen and some attaches of the East Liberty station to get the judge through to his car, for the scores of friends who had accompanied him to the station were inextricably mingled with a hundred Italians who had gathered at the station to take the third section of the judge's train for New York. But Judge McKenna and Mrs. McKenna got aboard at last, and during a minute and a half the couple stood on the platform, bowing their acknowledgments to the crowd that cheered them.

Judge McKenna and his wife left for New York, and on Saturday they will board the steamship for the scene of the judge's future labors, the island of Porto Rico. Mr. McKenna was much amused and at the same time touched by the demonstrations of regard which started him on his journey. He was all smiles, for everybody in the crowd was his friend, and if they did throw rice and confetti upon his devoted person he knew that friendship had dictated the action.

The Grand Army of the Republic was represented among the crowd by Frank Blair and Frank Totten, members of the post to which Judge McKenna belongs. Dr. C. C. Wiley and Mrs. Wiley and daughter, personal friends of Judge McKenna and wife, waved farewells, the doctor his hat and the ladies their handkerchiefs. Fully a hundred ladies and gentlemen were at the station to bid godspeed.

Judge McKenna lived at the Kretchmaier, at South Negley avenue and Fifth avenue. He and his wife had expected modestly to take a street car, but when they emerged from the house they found that most of the boarders and scores of their other friends wanted to take the same car. Two cars were needed to convey the multitude, and on the way to the East Liberty station they burned red fire, threw rice and confetti and cheered.

HELPED HIMSELF.

Warrant Out for Man Who Worked Soda Fountain Gag and Robbed Store.

Proprietors of East End soda fountains are concerned considerably just now about the operations of alleged inspectors. Information has been made against a former employe of the Liquid Carbonic Company as a result. The man is claimed to have represented himself as a present employe of that concern and to have gone through things in the store while pretending to be busy examining the soda fountains from cellar to garret.

He visited Porter & Golden's drug store at Station street and Sheridan avenue recently, and while in the cellar, helped himself to wine and a good quantity of condensed milk. Other articles like cigars and stationery were missed, and the total amount of property carried out by the man, when he said he was going for more tools, amounts, according to the owners of the place, to about $20.

P. Lawrence Jones' pharmacy at 5213 Fifth avenue also had a call. He is said to have made three trips there. He secured a syrup tank from that fountain and tried to sell the silver trimmings on it later for about $12. This is the way he got caught. Jones made the information.

It is said that the man was discharged from the Carbonic company for failure to return collections and that he had the same trouble while employed by the Acme Carbonating Company.

BOY DROWNED IN RIVER.

Workmen Who Were Called to the Rescue Failed to Find the Body.

Other Coroner's Cases.

Frank Ruminski, aged 7, of 814 Cabot way, was drowned in the Monongahela river, at the foot of South Eighth street, yesterday. The boy, with some companions, was sitting on a float watching the workmen remove a load of stones. He fell overboard and was washed down the stream. His companions called the workmen to the rescue, but at a late hour last night the men had failed to find the body.

An unknown man was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad, near New Kensington, yesterday. He was about 40 years old, had sandy hair and was about five feet nine inches tall, weighing 180 pounds. In his pocketbook was found $5 and a business board of Hoagland & Watkins, 709 Fifth avenue, McKeesport.

Thomas Lannon, 76 Camelia street, dropped dead on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at Forty-eighth street yesterday. Heart disease caused death. He was 68 years old.

Bellevue to Have Bonds.

Bellevue council last night passed an ordinance providing an election on November 8 to vote on the issuance of $80,000 additional bonds. The bonds asked for are to be used in street improvement extension, sewerage system and to pay the borough's share of the cost of the new bridge between Bellevue and Avalon.

LARKIN WON'T TALK.

He Declines to Forcast His Probable Action on the Filtration Bonds.

The hearing of the mandamus to compel Controller John B. Larkin to honor the pay roll of the bureau of filtration will be heard in court today. George W. Guthrie, Mr. Larkin's attorney, will return to Pittsburgh to conduct the case for his client. Mr. Larkin yesterday declined to say whether or not he would obey the finance committee's instructions to advertise for filtration bonds.

"I will wait until the filtration pay roll matter has been disposed of," he said.

Relative to the Finest of Women's Gloves---Reynier's.

The Autumn Styles Now Ready.

When it comes to gloves American women are willing to accept as correct the judgment of their French sisters. Now the glove manufacturers of France produce many fine gloves (in fact, France is the mother of the kid glove industry), but none so dear to the heart of the French woman as Reynier's.

Not only in France are Reynier's gloves known as the leading make, but throughout England, Germany and other parts of Europe. It follows that Reynier occupies the front rank in America, as the intelligent American woman is quick to recognize and appreciate merit in any article. And as American women are very fond of good gloves they are only too willing to acknowledge a fine glove when they meet it.

Reynier's gloves have many points of excellence. To begin with, the glove business has been handed down from one generation of Reyniers to another, thus there is no part from the tanning of the skins to the finishing of the perfected article with which they are not thoroughly conversant.

Reynier's know the best grades of kids and use only the best. They understand the shaping of gloves, which accounts for the perfect-fitting qualities of all Reynier gloves. They realize how very much depends on the proper dyeing of the kid which gives these gloves their beautiful colorings and high glace.

There are no better gloves in the world than Reynier's, and the distinguished manufacturer tell us that this is one of the finest lines he has ever turned out. Both glace and suede shown in all the newest Autumn shades.

3-clasp Overseam Suede, $1.75. 3-clasp Overseam Glace, $2.00.
2-clasp Pique Suede, $2.00. 2-clasp Pique Glace, $2.00.
1-button or 2-clasp Chevrette Tanne, $2.00.

New Lines of Boys' School Shoes.

Whether you like your boys to wear the finest shoes made or just a neat, serviceable style, we are just as well prepared to serve you. We know that boys have a fashion of knocking a pair of shoes to pieces in the shortest possible time, and as we have a hand in the manufacture of all our shoes, we endeavor to outwit them in this propensity. Another thing, all our shoes for boys are built to give the greatest amount of ease to growing feet. And we never lose sight of their style and appearance.

Little Boys' Russian Tan Shoes, welt soles, sizes 11 to 13½, widths B to D. $2.25. Button and lace.
Little Boys' Calf Shoes, welt soles, sizes 11 to 13½, widths B to D. $2.00.
Little Boys' Kid-lined Vici Kid Shoes, welt soles, same sizes as foregoing. $2.50.
Little Boys' Extra Heavy Box Calf Shoes, welt soles, sizes 11 to 13½. $2.25.
Little Boys' Patent Colt Shoes, same sizes as foregoing. $2.50.
Boys' Box Calf Shoes, sizes 2½ to 6. $2.00.
Boys' extra heavy Box Calf Shoes, sizes 2½ to 6. $2.50.
Boys' medium weight Box Calf Shoes, sizes 2½ to 6. $3.00.
Boys' Patent Coltskin Shoes, button and lace. Sizes 2½ to 6. $3.00 and $3.50.

New Silks for Autumn Weddings.

Handsome white silks, satins and fancy weaves in cream, ivory and white for the bride. Beautiful silks in white and variety of exquisite evening shades for the bride's maids. From France, of course, as you will know at a glance. And really, the manufacturers have outdone themselves for the Autumn of 1904 in the variety and beauty of the new weaves.

Prices are unusually low for such fine silks, $1.00 a yard and up to $3.00.

Here are a few of the newest numbers, which are commonly known as wedding silks—

Faille Francaise, Messalines, Satin Duchess, Crepe Luciole, Crepe Marquisette, Taffeta Operette, Crepe Roma, Crepe Angelus.

Two Engaging Numbers In Millinery.

The first is a new line of cloth hats for misses and women. They are hand-made and silk stitched, very stylish as to type and most artistic as to trimming. The designs are especially desirable for wear with cloth suits. $1.25, $1.50, $2.75, $3.00 and up to $5.00

The second refers to a collection of beautiful taffeta silk hats. These are for women, are tailored hats, all ready to wear, in black, brown and navy, trimmed with pompons to match. French Sailor type in this group. Any of them $3.50.

A New Idea in Art Needlework.

Stiletto or Eyelet Embroidery.

This is the latest novelty in fancy work, and we think it much prettier than the solid blind embroidery. We are showing linen Doylies, Centerpieces and Table Covers, stamped ready to be worked in this new embroidery. These pieces cost 15c, 25c, 35c and up to $1.00 each.

We also have a new line of ruffled Dresser Sets, consisting of Scarf and Mats. Made of fine mull, swiss, or batiste, or point d'esprit, tastefully trimmed with lace and ribbons and finished with lining of pink, blue or yellow. Specially priced at 50c, 75c, $1.00 and up to $1.25.

Women's and Children's Fall Weight Underwear.

It doesn't matter what sort of underwear you like, madam, you are certain to find it here. Our assortment for the present season is unusually large and covers every kind of knit underwear from the inexpensive cotton garment to the finest of woven silks. Then there are light weight wools and wool mixed with silk or cotton and many others.

Women's Underwear—

Below we give you an idea as to variety and prices—

Cotton Vests, 50c and 85c.
Merino Vests, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25.
Silk mixed Vests, white or natural, 75c and $1.00.
Drawers, knee or ankle length, two styles, band or rib top, 50c.
Drawers of merino, 75c, $1.00, $1.25.

Friday, September 9, 1904.

President Donnelly's order calling off the strike of the packing house men comes as a surprise after the very recent emphatic declarations that the fight would be continued. It is, however, a recognition of the inevitable. The strike was not a success. Many union men sought their old places without waiting for the official order now proclaimed. The net result is a heavy loss in wages to the men, a smaller loss to the rich packers who squeeze the public almost at will, and the disruption of the unions. The packing establishments will now become "open shops." Strikes rarely pay, and never unless the grievance is beyond dispute and the conduct above possible reproach.

In the coke region offers of business that would have been welcomed three months ago are not desired now, though many additional ovens have been fired. The Pennsylvania railroad has ordered 20,000 shop men back to work full time this week. Almost every day brings news of resumption of work at old plants, or of new enterprises. These signs portend the quickening of business all along the line and explain the general advance in prices in Wall street during the ordinary summer dull season. As the assurance of political stability grows the movement becomes stronger. The country is all right and will "stand pat."

Edwin Wilson Smiley, chief clerk of the state senate, who is dead at his home in Franklin, was a gentleman of urbane bearing and genial presence. Extremely modest, he was none the less of keenest intelligence. During the more than quarter of a century that he sat at the clerk's desk in the senate at Harrisburg, he grew to be a more potent influence in the proceedings of that body than any of its members, without ever intruding his personality. One of the highest authorities in the state on parliamentary law and procedure, his whispered word to the presiding officer was final in all cases. Mr. Smiley will be greatly missed at the capitol at the opening of next session, for he had become a part of the legislature.

Delegates to the interparliamentary conference were entertained in Pittsburgh yesterday and given a hasty view of some of the industries that have made the city famous throughout the world. This entertainment, however, was all provided by private enterprise, the municipality having no hand in it. In other cities visited the delegates have been welcomed by the mayors and have been shown official courtesies. We hope, however, they have not noted the lack of that welcome here, but that they may go on their way impressed by the peerless industrial resources of this region, while taking on faith the proverbial Pittsburgh hospitality, as well as the reputed culture of the community.

Pope Pius, addressing the French pilgrims, alluded to the trouble of the vatican with the French ministry, but counseled patience rather than opposition to the government. The speech can hardly be described as conciliatory in tone toward the ministry, but there was nothing in it that could be construed as defiant or belligerent. For France the pope expressed the tenderest affection and for its future the highest hopes, leaving the inference that the present ministry is a mere temporary incident, disturbing for the moment, but likely to be wafted away, leaving the church and state on cordial terms again. Possibly Pius hopes for such an outcome, but there is no present sign of it in the attitude of the French government or the French people.

Pittsburgh's return of its public schools, made to the state, gives an impressive view of the educational work of the city. The report covers 1,164 schools, with that many teachers and a few principals besides. The salaries for these range from $60 to $150 a month, making a grand total of hundreds of thousands annually for that service. The enrollment for last term was of more than 51,000 pupils and the average cost a month was $2.14. It is a large amount to expend for the education of the youth of one city, but the price is none too high to pay for the making of intelligent and useful citizens. It might seem extravagant to some of the lagging peoples of Europe, but the American knows too well what he gets for the money to make complaint.

Senator Fairbanks opened the speaking campaign in Connecticut yesterday with a speech that goes to the root of the situation in the Nutmeg state. The principal interest there is manufacturing. The people have been prosperous. Republican policies have ever been careful of business interests, for when they fare well the farmer has a good home market for his products. The Democrats, on the contrary, declare the entire protective system a robbery and advocate the destruction of existing conditions. Mr. Fairbanks pointed out this contrast clearly, and in a way that must appeal alike to the New England manufacturer and the Kansas corn-grower. He has been sticking persistently to his text from Vermont to Kansas and back again, and he is discussing the vital issue of the campaign.

Russia's Misgivings.

Late dispatches make it apparent the Japanese have succeeded in coming up with the fleeing Russians and that more bloody fighting has occurred. There is some confusion or conflict of reports concerning the result of the collision, but the condition of the Russian troops must be such that they could not long stand an onslaught from the Japanese, who have been hurrying large numbers of fresh troops forward. The Japanese are apparently racing with Kuropatkin for Tie-Ling, with the object of preventing him from taking a stand there. In the meantime they must have inflicted terrible punishment upon his rear guard.

Hard fighting has been resumed at Port Arthur. It does not seem possible the decimated garrison can have much resistance left in it. It will, however, inflict as much injury as possible upon the besieging force before it yields, in the interest of the further campaign, which both belligerent governments think may continue for three years. The most marked indication of Russian belief that the end is approaching at Port Arthur is the order issued for all non-combatants to leave Vladivostok. This is a clear acknowledgment that Admiral Togo's fleet is expected at that port, probably accompanied by a land force, and it is an admission that the Russian authorities have no desire to repeat the experience of Port Arthur in sustaining or protecting non-combatants. Russian pride forbade the surrender of non-combatants at Port Arthur when the Japanese tendered asylum for them, and Russia will have to bear a burden of obloquy for that refusal, when the sufferings of the non-combatants, as a result, become known.

There is ample evidence that Russia has discovered its mistake in rating Japan as a feeble antagonist. The lesson has been costly. But realizing the strength that confronts it, Russia denies any intention to negotiate for peace, and is preparing for defense on a larger scale. The internal necessities of the empire are probably the chief incentive to this course, for the Russian people would not take kindly a confession of helplessness at this moment. Yet the Russian authorities must quail at the task before them, that of raising, equipping and supplying an army double the strength of that defeated under Kuropatkin. It is too much for 6,000 miles of single track railroad and there is no assurance that the Baltic squadron can simplify the problem. No wonder Russian "fours" are declining.

Reflections of a Rural Sage.

The speech of the venerable Democratic nominee for the vice presidency at the West Virginia state fair was a singularly interesting performance. Mr. Davis' oratorical style was formed at the somewhat remote period when it was considered the proper thing to "rip with Euripides and sock with Socrates," so he did not fail to call attention to Cato, Cicero and Cincinnatus as representative farmers. Having thus maintained the traditions of the past he advanced to the consideration of the present and made some remarkable statements. He informed his hearers that "Our government expends annually for the war department $121,000,000, and for agriculture $5,000,000—over 20 times more for war than for agriculture, and the farmers pay a larger share of taxes than any other occupation."

Just how this constitutes a grievance of the farmer Mr. Davis did not explain. Unless farmers are not to be considered as citizens of the United States the expenditure for national defense is more for them than for any other class of people, for the simple reason that there are more of them. When the conduct of the administration is such as to make the government strong and respected, projecting the interests of American citizens in every part of the world and expanding the opportunities of American trade and commerce, no interest receives larger benefit than agriculture. When the policy of the administration is such as to develop our home industries and to maintain conditions of business activity the direct result of such a situation is agricultural prosperity. Mr. Davis made the sapient remark that "the farmer can live well and prosper without the towns or cities, but the people of the towns or cities soon starve if the farmer does not feed them." But all the same the farmer finds towns and cities mighty convenient places in which to dispose of his products and soon finds himself in the valley of hard-scrabble if hard times flatten down the purchasing power of the towns and cities. The relation between industrial activity and agricultural prosperity was put in a nutshell by the late Thomas B. Reed when he asked, "Which is it better for the farmer to do—send his surplus a thousand miles to the seacoast, 3,000 miles across the water and sell it to the mechanic who gets less wages, or sell it right here at home to the mechanic who gets more wages?" The latter course is that which the protective policy has promoted, and that policy the St. Louis platform denounces as "robbery."

Immediately after propounding his theory that under Republican administration the farmer is a neglected and injured being, Mr. Davis went on to refute his own argument by the facts of the case. In a justifiable glow of state pride he went on to describe the "gratifying increase in the agricultural interest in West Virginia." He gave figures showing a great increase in acreage and production since 1880. This seems to be pretty good proof that the treatment the agricultural interest is receiving seems to agree with it. West Virginia has experienced rapid industrial development under the protective policy and as her mining and manufacturing interests have developed her agricultural prosperity has increased. Referring to the reports of the agricultural department giving the prices of principal agricultural products on the farm, we find that in 1896 corn was selling at 34 cents a bushel in West Virginia; in 1903 the price was 64 cents. In 1896 wheat brought 78 cents; in 1903, 85 cents. Oats have advanced in price during the same period from 28 cents to 46 cents. In the period from 1892 to 1896 inclusive, when the theory that protection is robbery inspired the conduct of the government, corn declined in value from 56 cents to 34, and oats from 41 cents to 28. Wheat declined from 75 cents in 1892 to 69 cents in 1894, recovering to 78 cents in 1896.

Such facts do not indicate that the Republican party policy is hurting the West Virginia farmer. And what is true of the West Virginia farmer holds good throughout the nation. There is no better index of industrial welfare than the value of farm animals. That value declined over $800,000,000 during the last Democratic administration and has since increased over $1,300,000,000. Mr. Davis himself, who has a talent for presenting facts in refutation of his theories, gave figures showing a vast increase in the value of farm products during the past four years. Only people who possess Mr. Davis' faculty for ignoring the logical connection of facts will desire to abandon a policy which has been attended by such results.

Precept Without Example.

Speaking to the Democratic editors, Judge Parker said: "There are questions of great import to be passed upon by the people in November, questions that it will be your duty, and therefore I am sure your pleasure as well, to present honestly and so clearly that the people will understand them." This was a promising beginning. Naturally the next thing in order was to define those "questions of great import" so that in the discharge of their party duty the editors should make no mistake as to the position of their candidate. But having reached that point Judge Parker quit in a hurry, remarking, "I shall not take up your time, however, with any reference to the great issues upon which our party, through its platform and candidates, confidently appeal to the people for indorsement."

Thus again, as in his speech of acceptance, Judge Parker dodged the occasion by crawling under the St. Louis platform.

The firmness with which he resisted all attempts to make him speak during his candidacy made many people think that he had lots of strength in reserve and that when the time came for him to declare himself he would show himself to be a man of force and initiative. His gold standard telegram increased this impression, but everything he has done since indicates that the true reason why he said nothing is that he had nothing to say. Of course he speaks right out in condemnation of what the Republican party has done, but he cannot be induced to say plainly what ought to be done. Criticism is easy but performance is difficult. Judge Parker keeps to the easy task, and he makes that as easy as possible by ignoring Cleveland's second term and going back to his first term, 20 years ago, to make a comparison of the expenditures of the government then and now. Rip Van Winkle was also astonished by the change which took place in a like period.

Altogether it was a pale and flabby discourse to which the Democratic editors had to listen. It will not produce in them any satisfaction with the candidate they have to support. Although that may be their duty, it certainly will not now be their pleasure.

"Here is war news at a quick glance," says the Post. And this is what follows: "There is no news from the far east, either from Russian or Japanese sources. For the world-watchers of the greater tragedy, the curtain has been dropped, and all is conjecture." When news is wanted the people have learned to read The Gazette.

We have lost some of our regard for the Democratic editors. They never mentioned the news from Vermont to Judge Parker and he must have been anxious for the latest.

Watterson says Roosevelt is the only issue. Now he will go back to Kentucky and resume the task of getting even with Bryan and Cleveland.

Indiana county is in the prosperity belt. But one sheriff's sale for the September term and that one on a claim for only $75.

Though the slayer of Contractor Ferguson protested his innocence to the last, the sheriff made a good Croat of him.

Crucible stockholders are to have all the information they want. This is easier than giving them back their money.

Having seen the sage of Esopus the Democratic editors probably wonder why they left their happy homes.

When news reached Mukden of a battle to the southward the retreat toward Tie-Ling took on additional energy.

Uncle Gassaway is doing no more harm with his voice than the man at the head of the ticket.

A new definition of an optimist is that he is a member of the general staff at St. Petersburg.

Diebler, the famous French headsman, is dead. He has gone where there are no guillotines.

Candidate Parker talks through his hat. That probably explains his aversion to speaking.

While Kuropatkin is running they are taking something of a panic up at Vladivostok.

The longer the Democrats contemplate Vermont the less they like it.

Russia is learning that rear guard actions are highly expensive.

A better market for coke is one of the signs of the times.

As To Negro Domination.

Now let Senator Bailey explain if he can that it is a square deal to disfranchise the negro and then use him in the population apportionment to increase the political power of those who have disfranchised him. Let it be understood now that no one wants to force negro rule upon the south and that the south shall not be permitted to force its rule upon the nation through the negro.—San Francisco Call.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The fact that a girl has been injured for life on the Coney Island loop will probably give this diversion a boost. If one or two persons would be obliging enough to permit themselves to be killed, the pastime would renew its waning popularity. The blase are not confined to Murray hill. They are also to be found on Cherry hill and they travel occasionally to Coney Island. What the populace wants is thrill and plenty of it. There is no longer any excitement in "bump-the-bumps" because everybody is now able to make the slip and land on the mat with both feet. And the helter-skelter is seldom patronized by any but small children and chorus girls with time-defying stockings.

And so Coney Island has determined to have a mardi gras; and because it cares nothing for a name except the sound of it, or perhaps because it has a fondness for the topsy-turvy, the festival is to be held this month, beginning on the 21st and continuing three days. Luna park will turn loose in the streets all the animals that have a part in the durbar; Bostock will open wide the cages of his most ferocious animals; fiery, untamed press agents will affright the populace and Marie Dressler, who controls the peanut concession in Dreamland, will ride in a gaudy chariot with David Bennett Hill. Yes, sir; there's goin' to be doin's in Coney, and the cow that gives us milk shakes will be very, very busy—maybe.

Old Jokes Made New.

The dressmakers' show in Madison Square garden has caused the revival of several old jokes and they are made to appear almost new. For instance, the fact was gravely chronicled yesterday in the public prints that an organization of husbands had been effected to protest against the show on the ground that what a woman sees she wants to buy and the average pocketbook shrinks from the ordeal and refuses to stand the strain. But there is no joke about the pronouncement of Alexander Green, who addressed the convention, when he advocated a blacklist of women who are dilatory about paying dressmakers' bills; but as his aim was to protect the trade from women who spend as much as $30,000 a year on dress, it fails to touch the average man.

Might Suppress the Bad Boy.

The New York bad boy has been mentioned in this column at least once. Within the last few days he has risen to the dignity of an issue. A stone thrown by Bernard Smith killed Mamie Bowen and the public has begun to realize that no man, even though he be a policeman, can hope to cope with a crowd of youngsters. They are irresponsible as they are fleet of foot. And so the suggestion has been made, and it may be carried out, that in all the more crowded districts of the city trustworthy and athletic boys of 18, 19 and 20 years be organized for the successful management and control of the bad boy evil. "Set a boy to catch a boy." Each organization will be a kind of an adjunct to the police force. It is expected that enough boys who are fleet of foot and of the requisite physical and mental makeup could be induced to join such an organization in the section of the city where they live, and a vast amount of rowdyism and unnecessary noise among the younger element would then be abolished.

It is thought, moreover, that the effecting of such an organization would do much to inculcate among the young men and boys a knowledge of and appreciation of municipal obligations. Some such idea was in the mind of the founder of the George Junior Republic in Freeville, this state. The "republic," made up of boys and girls, governs itself, has its own factories, farms, school, church, court and prison. Bishop Potter occasionally preaches in the church. Superintendent George usually preaches. But all the rest of the institutions are governed by the boys and girls themselves. There are judge, jury, attorneys, jailors, policemen, everything connected with the administration of justice. Of course there is no saloon in the republic, not even a subway tavern.

E. A. Gray, business manager of the republic, while in the city today expressed himself as being much in favor of the proposed organizations. "Anything that will interest boys in good citizenship," he said to the writer, "is bound to be beneficial. And I know of no better way to curb the growing hoodlumism of the younger generation in some sections of the city. The idea might even be elaborated on republic lines, making the youngsters responsible for the good behavior of their own particular sections, and giving them the privilege of punishing offenders under the supervision of their elders."

Good Living Is Assured.

Gotham is a great place for the charlatan. Here he may do business unmolested to an extent undreamed of in Pittsburgh. It is not an impossible thing to see a fortune-teller's sign on a house next to a police station. There appears to be money in the business. Many of the fortune-tellers, live in fine houses. Ever so many of them advertise in the newspapers. And while there are fools in the world they will continue to make a good living.

Mounted Police Make a Hit.

Mounted police now patrol Broadway and regulate traffic. They made their appearance on the street for the first time yesterday, but already they are making their influence felt. They keep trucks off the car tracks; they prevent drivers from keeping their wagons before any particular building any longer than is absolutely necessary to unload; they compel expressmen, with light parcels to deliver, to stop in side streets and carry the parcels to the Broadway stores; they enforce the rule of the road posted up on every lamp post—that slow moving vehicles must keep close to the curb.

Much is expected from the new corps. Already they have distinguished themselves. A fire alarm from Broadway and Maiden lane during the early rush hour today proved conclusively their value. In two minutes three patrolmen on horses had a crowd of thousands in hand with which it would have been impossible for policemen afoot to do anything unless they had been assisted by reserves. There are only nine men at work at present, but there will be 120 of them scattered along the big street before Capt. Stephen O'Brien gets through. Just now he is hampered by a lack of horses.

Park Row Seems Strange.

Park row has a strangely unfamiliar look nowadays. It is free of excavations. All year it was dug up and to cross it was fraught with deadly peril. Nobody appeared to know what it was all about. Newspaper editors thought it amusing to profess ignorance, and every new hole was excuse for new editorial conjecture. Now all this is changed. But it was changed so gradually that pedestrians never appreciated the good fortune that once again is theirs. They do not need now to dodge anything but street cars and trucks.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

When you go into the Allegheny High school the police will get you if you don't watch out.

But even that won't be hardly half bad, for the High school force is made up of women teachers.

Wouldn't you rather be arrested by one of these than not, or would you?

Shall they be addressed as policemen or policewomen, or ladies, or what?

What is to be their insignia, and how shall they be armed and equipped for this special and onerous duty? Will they fasten onto the fellows who struggle into the wide and inviting halls with handcuffs as strong as hooks of steel? This will be pleasant enough for both, if both are agreed. But what if they be unequally or unsatisfactorily handcuffed together?

What sort of place has been chosen for a lockup? It should be pleasantly located within calling distance of an ice cream laboratory, and provided with facilities for billing and cooing.

Are fines and forfeits to be paid as they used to be when kissing plays were in vogue?

No doubt copies of the rules and regulations for the government of the new police force will be in good demand.

* * * * *

The statement of the principal to the effect that the teachers have enough idle time on their hands to enable them to stand one hour tricks is rather stunning. Besides, he claims it will afford them plenty of active, healthy exercise. In fact he allows grass will have no chance to grow under their feet, nor woods to spring up on their beats.

This is more utilitarian and practical than routine physical culture or tiresome gymnastics, also more economical, for paid policemen come rather high. As salaries go now paid policewomen would not be more than half as expensive, but if this mite can be saved the management will be able to point with pride to at least one economic feature.

The taxpayer may not feel the effect very sensibly, but it can be mathematically demonstrated that his load is lighter than if a force of hall walkers were regularly employed. In this way he may be made to apprehend the cash value of this move, but whether he will be able to comprehend it is another question.

Anyway, you had better not loiter in the halls of the new High school unless you would rather be caught by the policewomen than not.

* * * * *

The management of the school is to be complimented, however, on making a move in the right direction, even if it does not loom up as a very striking departure from the old ways so distinctly marked by deep ruts and smooth-worn schutes.

While our schools are up-to-date on new studies and fads, too, there is no denying the fact that they are shy, sadly shy, on practical culture and social ethics. Pupils are taught and coached and trained to answer a large percentage of all the questions on the various lists, while their manners and their language and their conduct show only too clearly that they are not being taught and coached and trained in the very things essential to the development of character.

Learning without manners is not of much use to a young man or woman, for it is by their deportment that they are judged rather than by their knowledge of mathematics, grammar and geography.

Practical business men say that while there are plenty of boys who can write and figure well, there are comparatively few who are not deficient in manners and discipline necessary to his usefulness in a business office.

Moral discipline and social culture are absolutely essential in the development of a useful, dependable man or woman.

* * * * *

The better organized and more successful business institutions contend that it is not good policy to keep their talented employes constantly engaged. They must have time to think.

Unthinking laborers may work steadily and unremittingly day in and day out and be none the worse for it except as to natural wear and tear. These are machines, while those who are capable of devising ways and providing means are something more. And because they are something more they are entitled to something more in the way of wages than the automatons whom they control and whose labor they direct.

Teachers are not automatons, or at least they should not be. In order to be helpful to the young folks committed to their care they should be able to think and devise and execute ways and means by which to develop character as well as to hear recitations and assign lessons.

In order, therefore, to be most helpful their noses should not be kept so close to the grindstone that they cannot look up. They observe better and effect more when they have a little idle time on their hands.

* * * * *

Good teachers are worthy of good wages, and the wonder is that they haven't had their salaries raised ere this.

The principal argument against a raise is that to pay them what they deserve would increase the tax rate and set property holders to kicking against the party that proposes it.

Have you ever heard a taxpayer kicking against the school tax?

Many of them kick against taxes high or low. The majority of them can't tell how much they contribute toward the support of the schools in which their children are being educated. Were their school tax cut in two at the middle they would kick just as hard and as high, and if it was increased one-half they wouldn't kick one bit higher or harder.

Women will never, or at least hardly ever, get as high wages for teaching as men, and for the very good reason that they do not intend to make it a profession, as men do. Nor should they do so. They were made to be the wives of men, also the mothers of men and the teachers of infants.

You may not think so, if you have thought of it at all, that the trend given to the life of an infant by its mother usually determines its character at maturity, whether good or bad.

Thus it is that the mothers of men literally rule the world.

And still they are not contented, but like Alexander the Great, they sigh for other worlds to rule.

William Ayers, aged 84, died yesterday morning at his home in Pulaski, Lawrence county, from heart trouble. His widow and two sons, Edwin A. and Adelbert of Marrysville, O., survive. He was a lifelong Republican and a member of the Presbyterian church.

Lewis E. Thompson, ex-prothonotary of Westmoreland county, died at his home in Greensburg last evening, from heart failure. He was born in Cook township 65 years ago and served as justice of the peace in Stahlstown for a number of terms. He was prominently identified with the Republican party and was elected prothonotary by that party in 1893, serving until 1899. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. W. E. Blackburn of Latrobe and Anna of Greensburg.

PERSONALS

W. F. Arbuckle of Mazatlan, Mex., is at the Hotel Antler. He has recently made a tour of the country through which will be built the Panama canal. In talking on this subject, he said: "It has been stated that the Panama canal district is very unhealthful and much sickness will result among the workmen before they are thoroughly acclimated. I believe this to be an error. During my observations I found that as soon as the United States abolish the customs of the natives and compel them to live a more cleanly life, and adopt a system of sanitation, the district will be as healthful as any part of the United States. The building of the canal will not require so much difficulty in digging the earth as in trasporting it. There is one mountain to encounter. There are no rocks to contend with, but this fact will make it harder to excavate. If there were rock the mountain could be tunneled. But there being none, it will require a cut 400 feet deep and 4,000 feet long. There were over 300 civil engineers at work when I was down there, not including their helpers."

PARKER REVERTS TO CLEVELANDISM

Tells About Great Economic Administration of Former Democratic President.

EDITORS VISIT ROSEMOUNT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., Sept. 8.—More than 200 editors of the Democratic newspapers, representing various parts of the country and all aspects of the Democratic faith, came to Rosemount today to visit Judge Parker. The editors and their friends, to the total of 655, were in the mood for a holiday. The party left New York on a special train and arrived at Hyde Park within two hours. At Hyde Park the editors went aboard the steamer St. Johns.

When the boat reached Rosemount a line was formed to march to Judge Parker's house. Charles W. Knapp of the St. Louis Republic extended the greetings of the editors to the candidate Judge Parker responded as follows:

It is indeed a great peasure to wecome to Rosemount this body of representatives of the great American press, one of the mighty forces in the upbuilding and strengthening of a sturdy American citizenship. You have been in conference to the end and that your work in this campaign may be as effective as possibe. Organized effort and concerted action must awavs increase the effectiveness of the common endeavor of many hands.

I shall not take up your time with any reference to the great issues upon which our party through its platform and candidates confidently appeal to the people for indorsement, but crave your indulgence while I briefly refer to a single feature of the platform of the Republican party.

That platform opens with a declaration of that party's many years of control of government, coupled with the assertion that it has displayed a high capacity for rule and government, which has been made even more conspicious by the incapacity and infirmity of purpose shown by its opponents.

This challenge to a comparison of Democratic and Republican administrations since the Republican party came into existence should be welcomed. Fortunately we have eight recent years of Democratic administration of the executive department of the government which we will gladly compare with any similar period since 1800.

The comparison will show that under Democratic control the administrative purity of the fathers was observed in the conduct of the government, that no one of its departments was permeated as of late with corruption rivaling the days of the Star route frauds; that a successful effort was made to check the growth of expenditures; that it resulted in each instance in cutting down the expenses within the control of the executive department of the government below that of the preceding administrations. The comparison will show also that each succeeding Republican administration after 1888 increased expenses, and in some instances so greatly as to indicate reckless extravagance and waste of the people's money.

The cause cannot be advanced by attacks on others within the party with whom we have had disagreements, but who are now working with us for a common result. All men who have attained any degree of prominence have their friends and the exercise of ordinary prudence forbids the alienation of allies who are willing and anxious to assist. The coming election is not to be determined by the September vote in hopelessly Republican states where local issues and candidates even are grievously handicapped, but the result in Vermont on Tuesday admonishes us and there can be no harm in giving voice to the admonition—that a harmonious co-operation of all and the elimination of personal, factional and unimportant differences involving no surrender of principles, are essential to success.

JEWS WILL CELEBRATE.

At Sunset Today the Hebrews Will Have a Fast to Inaugurate the New Year.

This evening at sunset the Jewish New Year 5665 will begin, according to the calendar fixed by the Bible. It is not a new year in the sense of the beginning of the civil calendar, but in the significance of the beginning of a new season of active labor and the commencement of a new period of activity after the summer rest and vacation. It is marked by a series of solemn services as an introduction to the most sacred day in the Jewish calendar, which occurs 10 days later.

It is customary in many synagogues to usher in the new year by blowing the ram's horn, the meaning of this custom being the proclamation of God as king of the universe. In all the synagogues of the city services will be held this evening and tomorrow morning and in some cases also on Sunday. In the Reform congregation Rodeph Shalom, Eighth street, below Penn avenue, services will commence this evening at 7:30 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

On both occasions addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, and tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock a children's service, especially arranged for this occasion by the rabbi, will be held in the temple.

READY FOR CAMPAIGN.

"Ajax" Jones Revives the Grand Central Marching Club.

Jones' old Grand Central club has been organized for the fall campaign and will appear in all Republican demonstrations. At a meeting held in the Franklin street school house Wednesday night, the following officers were elected:

"Ajax" Jones, president; Walter Carter, vice president; James C. Delphe, secretary; John Hurd, treasurer; Paul J. Carson, captain; John Gray, first lieutenant; Edward Perkins, second lieutenant; Washington Childs, third lieutenant. These delegates to the Reading convention of State League of Republican clubs were chosen: Peyton Wilson, Edward Perkins and John Perry.

MANAGEMENT OF CRUCIBLE PROMISES A STATEMENT

Alexander Thomas, secretary of the Crucible Steel Company of America, said yesterday that a complete statement of the affairs of the Crucible from the time of its formation through all its troubles up to the present is being prepared for the stockholders. This will be in the form of a preliminary statement preceding the annual report to be submitted at the stockholders' annual meeting at Jersey City on October 10. Stockholders are to receive this in a couple of weeks. The board meets September 15.

Local Firms Receive Contracts.

The McClintic-Marshall Construction Company has been awarded the contract for the steel work, amounting to 700 tons, for the plant of the Seamless Tube Company of America to be built at Monessen. The main building will be 600x140 feet. The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company was awarded a contract for a 800 k. w. generator. The machinery for the plant is expected to reach this country from Germany in a few days. The capacity of the plant at the start will be 100 tons a day.

Catholic Jubilee Begins.

The jubilee in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the definition of the dogma of the immaculate conception of the Virgin Mary, proclaimed in the Roman Catholic church by Pope Pius X. began yesterday, the feast of the nativity of the Virgin Mary. The conditions named by the pope to gain the plenary indulgences in connection with the jubilee are that the faithful during the next three months must make three separate visits to the church selected by the bishops of the various dioceses and recite devout prayers for certain purposes, named by the pope in his letter to the bishops.

Police Raid Crowd at Spring.

Loitering at the spring on the hillside above River avenue by young people has been the cause of much complaint from residents of Stanton avenue, and the police have undertaken to break up the practice. A raid was made on the crowd at the spring yesterday and Conrad Henry, Edward Murphy and Lucy McManus were arrested.

JAPANESE ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE NOVIK

Russians Drive Them from Sunken Warship and Remove Mines Placed on It.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—Two Japanese cruisers bombarded Korsakovsk, Island of Sakhalin, yesterday and fired torpedoes at the sunken Russian cruiser Novik. Lieut.-Gen. Liapounoff, military governor of the Island of Sakhalin, in a dispatch to the emperor dated yesterday, says:

At 6 a. m., Tuesday, the smoke of steamers was observed at sea, and the troops were prepared for action. Two Japanese transports of 6,000 tons each anchored eight versts out, and two launches were lowered and proceeded to the Novik. At 10:45 the order was given to fire volleys at the Japanese on board the Novik and in the launches. This firing was so successful that the deck of the Novik was cleared, and the launches returned to the transports. The enemy returned the Russian fire, but no damage was done. At 12:45 p. m. the transports put to sea.

The commander of the garrison went on board the Novik and found a number of rifles and some wires connected with mines. The wires were cut and nine mines, in different parts of the ship, were removed.

TEACHERS REVIEW WORK DONE FOR HIGHER WAGES

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Teachers' association in the Reformed Presbyterian church, Eighth street, yesterday afternoon, reports were received from the various committees appointed to conduct the teachers' campaign for higher salaries. About 700 teachers were present. Arrangements have been completed by the teachers to send out 30,000 letters to organizations and others who can help in the movement. About 1,200 letters will be sent to the women's organizations this week.

PLAN TO AMEND THIEL CHARTER

Trustees of College Claimed by Greenville and Greensburg Meet Here.

FINAL ACTION WAS POSTPONED

At a meeting of the trustees of Thiel college, held yesterday at the Grant Street Lutheran church, a resolution providing for the amendment of the college charter was proposed. This resolution is aimed to allow the removal of the college from Greenville to Greensburg. No definite action was taken on the amendment yesterday. It will be considered further at a meeting to be held October 19.

Under the old charter the trustees of Thiel had the right to decide upon the permanent location of the college. This was construed by the courts as insufficient to allow the removal. The amendment proposed gives the college trustees the right to move the institution beyond any doubt.

In the meantime the plans for the coming season at Greensburg are progressing as if there had been no trouble over the matter. The fall term opened yesterday with an enrollment of 120 students. This number, it is believed, will be increased to 180 before the end of the week. The four years' course of study, as taught at Thiel, is being pursued by a number of the students. In the event of failure to remove the Greenville institution to Greensburg a full collegiate course will be given by the seminary, its charter providing for a curriculum fully as advanced as any Western Pennsylvania college.

PROPERTY OWNERS ARE TO OPPOSE STREET VACATION

They Will Ask That the Vote Favoring the Closing of Fillmore Street be Reconsidered Today.

A number of property owners of the Bellefield district, Fourteenth ward, will appear before the committee on surveys this afternoon to protest against the vacation of Fillmore street, from Bellefield avenue to Dithridge street. Among the protestants will be Dr. A. S. Daggette, Assistant District Attorney A. J. Edwards and Thomas Jones, chief clerk of the bureau of health, property owners of the district. They will maintain that the vacation asked for will leave no opening into Bellefield avenue from Forbes street to Fifth avenue, a distance of 1,100 feet.

The petition for the vacation of the street is signed by H. C. Frick, who owns the property on both sides of the strip proposed to be vacated and also a large tract of land on the other side of Bellefield avenue. Yesterday a check, signed by F. F. Nicola, who has conducted real estate transactions for Frick, was received by the city clerk. It is for $100 and is the usual fee exacted from petitioners for vacations to pay for printing the ordinance.

The petition was presented in common council last June by James McKnight, councilman from the Fourteenth ward. It was recommended favorably by the committee on surveys on Tuesday, as was an ordinance vacating a portion of McPherson street, from Richland street to Braddock avenue. The vacation is asked by the Highland Brewing Company, which now has a brewery near Brushton station and wants to erect one adjoining the property to be vacated.

"I do not think that streets should be vacated without compensation to the city," said Councilman W. H. Johns yesterday, "unless good reasons are given. It has been reported that Mr. Frick intends to present some kind of an institute to the city, built on the property owned by him opposite the portion of Fillmore street he wants vacated. Well, it is up to Mr. Frick to explain why he wants the street vacated. That strip is worth $30,000, and if vacated it will revert to Mr. Frick, who has recently bought the property on both sides of the street, thus putting the city in the position of making a $30,000 gift to Mr. Frick. I will ask that the vote recommending the ordinance favorably be reconsidered, and I have no doubt that the motion will be adopted. The vote in favor of the vacation of McPherson street will also be reconsidered."

Councilmen C. W. Helmold and A. G. Roenigk of the Twentieth ward will oppose reconsideration of both votes and will also oppose the vacation of Gas alley.

SOLD BY RECEIVER.

Unites States Shipbuilding Company Property Bought by New Organization.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Pursuant to the decree of the United States circuit court, James Smith, Jr., receiver for the United States Shipbuilding Company, today sold the real estate and personal property of the Crescent Shipbuilding Company and the real estate and personal property of the Samuel L. Moore Sons & Co. to William Nelson Cromwell of New York. The buyer represented George R. Sheldon, chairman of the reorganization committee of the United States Shipbuilding Company.

Mr. Cromwell bid $125,000 for the Crescent real estate; $25,000 for the Crescent personal property; $175,000 for the Moore real estate and $30,000 for the Moore personal property. In each case the amount bid was the upset price.

Married a Pennsylvanian.

DENVER, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Mrs. James Doyle, recently divorced from Mr. Doyle, a former owner of the Portland, one of the greatest mines in the west, has just married F. B. Whitin, the Pennsylvania millionaire and cotton oil manufacturer. Mr. Whitin has built a palace for his bride in Honolulu. She sold her Denver property and started for Hawaii today.

New Jersey Won Trophy.

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 8.—New Jersey won the Dryden trophy match today, the most important event of the national riflemen's meet, by surpassing the work of the other competitors at the 1,000-yards range. The Jerseymen passed the United States marine corps, the District of Columbia and Ohio, and won the contest with a lead of nine points.

Big Shipment of Currency.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A very interesting movement of currency to San Francisco was under negotiation today and will in all probability be put through tomorrow, with the transfer of $1,500,000 by a prominent banking interest of the Wall street district.

Resolved, That this league request the next session of the legislature to pass such acts of assembly as may be necessary to constitute the city treasurer of each city of the third class ex-officio the collector of all city, county, poor and school taxes collected in such cities, and that the legislative committee prepare and submit to the next meeting of the legislature such bill or bills as may be necessary to make the city treasurer such collector of taxes, and that the secretary mail a copy of this resolution to the members of the next general assembly.

ROOSEVELT APPOINTS HIS REPRESENTATIVE

Col. Curtis Guild Will Attend Foreign Service Veterans' Reunion on President's Behalf.

Col. Curtis Guild, lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts, has been appointed by President Roosevelt as his personal representative at the convention of the American Veterans of the Foreign Service, which will be held in Pittsburgh next week. In appointing Col. Guild, the president acknowledged the invitation which had been tendered him by the executive committee to meet his former comrades at the big gathering. The president is an enthusiastic member of the organization and has shown his interest in the veterans by many similar acts.

The committee having charge of the arrangements for the convention have found it impossible to raise sufficient funds required for the expenses necessary, and yesterday made an appeal to Pittsburgh business men for aid. The committee is composed of the following: Harry J. Devine, George Nurner and George Mezger, chairman.

The William McKinley post, No. 3, of the American Veterans of Foreign Service will tender a reception to the United States army and navy officers who will attend the convention, the ball room of the Hotel Schenley having been engaged for the purpose for next Friday evening.

CAPITOL WILL BE READY FOR THE NEXT SESSION

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Assurance that the new state capitol will be ready for occupancy by the next legislature was given the capitol commission today by the contractor, architect and engineer of the building. The commission was also advised that the halls of the senate and house of representatives will be ready for the installation of furniture long before the opening of the session.

Executioner Diebler Dead.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Louis Deibler, who directed the guillotine of Paris for 20 years, died at Auteuil today at the age of 81. He succeeded his father, who was chief executioner, and then surrendered the office to his son, Anatole Deibler, who is the present executioner. He had executed 327 persons.

SOCIETY

SIMPLICITY and beauty in every detail marked the wedding of Miss Alberta Rose Youngson and the Rev. John Edward Martin of New York, which took place last evening in the chapel of the Third Presbyterian church, Fifth and South Negley avenue. The Rev. William Wallace Youngson, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, assisted by the Rev. William L. McEwan, pastor of the church. The bride's sister, Mrs. W. H. McKelvy, was her only attendant. A brother, John G. Youngson, gave her away, while Alfred Martin, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bridal robe was a regal creation of white chiffon cloth and lace. It was made en princesse with full court train. The yoke of fagoting was finished with a soft bertha of the lace, which was arranged in panel effect on the skirt. The long tulle veil hung cloud-like over the gown and was caught and fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms and a Prince of Wales plume. The bride's only ornament was an exquisite little pearl pendant, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a small Bible, from which hung a shower of lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was gowned in white mercerized batiste and valenciennes lace. The skirt was tucked at each seam and the lace was inset in flounce effect around the bottom, the bodice having a dainty bertha of the same. She carrried a cluster of long-stemmed American Beauty roses.

These flowers were combined in a most artistic manner with palms in the church. Huge clusters of goldenrod and palms were used at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McKelvy in Fifth avenue, where an informal reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony. The gifts, which were arranged in an upper room, consisted of cutglass, silver, china, bric-a-brac and furniture. Among them was a handsome silver tea service from Dr. and Mrs. McKelvy, a framed picture from the bride's fellow teachers at the High school and several pieces of furniture from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, the parents of the bridegroom, and George Martin, his brother. There were also several gifts from the former pupils of the bride, who has taught in the commercial department of the High school for several years.

The music, which was a feature of the wedding, was given by Prof. Ernest Jores, organist of the church, and J. William Hammerlie and Miss Helen Steiner, friends of the bride. Before the bridal party entered Miss Steiner sang Allison's "Song of Thanksgiving," and during the ceremony she chanted the Lord's prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will take a lake trip, at the conclusion of which they will reside in Tarrytown, N. Y., where the bridegroom is religious secretary of the Young Men's Christian association.

Jackson-Beetham.

A wedding of interest in church circles last evening was that of Miss Elsie Decker Jackson and Thomas Beetham, which took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Mary Hoffliger, in Monterey street, Allegheny, at 7 o'clock. The Rev. W. R. Moore, pastor of the Buena Vista Street Methodist Episcopal church, officiated, and the only attendants were the maid of honor, Miss Hannah Protzman, and the best man, Samuel Beddow. Thomas M. Jackson, a brother of the bride, giving his sister away.

The bride wore a gown of white batiste and lace and carried white roses, while her maid of honor was gowned in pale green mousseline and carried white roses. Mrs. Hoffliger was in brown silk. The decorations throughout the house were original and very pretty. A short curtain of strands of white paper edged with white wedding bells hung across the large window in the parlor and an aisle to the fireplace, before which the ceremony took place, was formed of white silk ribbons. Pink and white roses adorned the mantel and around the chandelier was hung asparagus and drapery of white paper. The supper table had an embroidered cover of white over pink and the candles were shaded in pink.

Among the gifts which the bride received was a large mantel mirror from her three brothers, Harry, Thomas and Fletcher Jackson, a vase and a picture from Mr. Beetham's class in the Buena Vista street Sunday school, a china dinner service from Mrs. Hoffliger and a number of gifts from Mr. Beetham's relatives in England. One of these was the wedding cake, which his mother, just returning from a trip abroad, brought with her. After an extended eastern tour Mr. and Mrs. Beetham will be at home with Mrs. Hoffliger in Monterey street receiving their friends after October 1.

Miss Harrison's Wedding Plans.

Miss Nell Louise Harrison of Somerset has chosen Wednesday, October 12, as the date for her wedding to John Cosby Bryden, general manager of the Somerset Coal Company. The wedding will take place in the Trinity Lutheran church of Somerset, the Rev. William L. Fisher of New Castle officiating. A reception at the Highland Inn will follow the church ceremony. Miss Harrison came to Pittsburgh last evening to be the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grant McCutcheon, for several days. Their daughter, Miss Rebecca McCutcheon, will be Miss Harrison's flower girl and her attendants will also include Miss Mary Beerits of Somerset, as maid of honor, and Miss Ethel White and Miss Grace White, daughters of Gov. Albert White of Charleston, W. Va.; Miss Bess Roberts of Cumberland, Md.; Miss Sarah Bigler of Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Edith White of Morgantown, W. Va.; Miss Louise Stutson of Washington Court House, O.; Miss Myra Ross of Addison, Pa., and Miss Myra Love of Somerset, as bridesmaids. The ushers and best man have not yet been chosen. Miss Harrison is a daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Charles J. Harrison of Somerset. Her fiance is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Brydon of Bloomington, Md.

Rain Did Not Spoil Plans.

Although the heavy showers yesterday made the 1,000 visitors at the Ladies of the G. A. R. home scamper indoors, they did not seriously interfere with the plans of those in charge of the annual celebration. The tents on the grounds surrounding the home were abandoned and their contents removed to the booths on the porch, where nearly everything had been sold earlier in the day. During the afternoon there were speeches by Mrs. Frances I. Holgate, the department president, from La Plume, Pa.; Andrew Miller, solicitor for the home; A. F. Burchfield, senior vice president; Mrs. E. R. Schalck, Pottsville; Frank Blair, A. B. Hay, R. H. Holgate and Thomas Sample, with prayer by the Rev. Joseph Calhoun. In the evening an entertainment was conducted in the chapel, those contributing to the program being Master Robert William B. Gesrich, Miss Lila Reese, M. R. Frank and Mrs. Robert Gesrich.

Barber-Carnes.

The Oakland Presbyterian church was the scene of a pretty little wedding last evening, the bride being Miss Emily Barber, a daughter of George Barber of Penn avenue, and the bridegroom William H. Carnes, also of this city. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Charles S. Beatty, pastor of the church, and the bridal party included Miss Elizabeth Snee as maid of honor and Albert Bowman as best man, with George P. Kunkleman and C. Cormann as ushers. Miss Pearl Weaver played the wedding march. The church was decorated with palms and cut flowers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister in Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Carnes leaving later for their wedding trip. On their return they will make their home in Grace street, Mt. Washington.

Pink Luncheon for Bride-Elect.

Miss Edith McMillen of Locust street, Allegheny, who is to be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Mabel Cornelia Elderkin and Wilbur Darwin Hockensmith on Wednesday, gave a prettily-appointed luncheon in honor of the bride-elect yesterday. Covers were laid for 12, and the appointments were carried out in pink and white. Rose shaped cards marked the places and the favors were single pink roses, these blossoms also forming the centerpiece. In addition to Miss Elderkin the guests were Miss Mary Elderkin, Miss Milly Hockensmith, Miss Estelle Brown, Miss Jennie King, Miss Laura Smith, Miss Josephine Lee, Miss Lelia Colvin, Miss Ada Jenks, Miss Clara Wright and Miss Mary McMillen.

Wheeling Races Were Exciting.

WHEELING, W. VA., Sept. 8.—The City day crowd at the state fair this afternoon was nearly 25,000. The racing was very exciting, the finishes being almost exceptionally. The blue ribbon of the week, the free-for-all pace, went to Bedworth Junior in straight heats, two heats being won in the fast time of 2:15. The 2:30 pace was the sensational race of the afternoon. After Silver Rod had won two heats, he was out of it and Alfalfa came to the front and captured the three ensuing heats and the race. The 2:20 trot was easy for Nellie B. in straight heats, with Barton Boy the only contender.

Returning from Summer Trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodd of Ellsworth and Aiken avenues and their daughter and sons, Miss Mary H. Rodd, William Herron Rodd and Thomas Rodd, Jr., are expected home on Sunday morning. They are now in New York, after having come from Point Pleasant, N. J., where they spent the entire summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe of Forbes street will return to the city on Tuesday. They have been all summer visitors in Nonquitt, Mass.

Ladies' Missionary Society Met.

A meeting of the Ladies' Missionary society of the Sewickley United Presbyterian church was held in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Nannie L. Wallace presided. A number of short talks were given on both home and foreign mission work, also parsonage work by the members of the society. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. John J. Koch and Mrs. John McKinnie presided at the tea tables, assisted by a number of the young ladies of the society.

Kurtz-Black.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Albert Braden Kurtz, a jeweler of Connellsville, and Miss Etta Black of Coniuence were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Black, today. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Bryson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Dawson. The bride was attended by Miss Carrie Kurtz, sister of the groom. J. C. White of Pittsburgh was groomsman. The couple left on an eastern tour.

King-Krauss.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—At the home of the bride's parents in Jeannette tonight Miss Ella Alice King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos King, was married to the Rev. Dr. Elmer Frederick Krauss, professor of New Testament exegesis in the Lutheran theological seminary, Chicago. Guests attended from Pittsburgh, Chicago, Irwin, McKeesport, Manor and Greensburg.

Mrs. Mariatt Entertains.

Mrs. Walter Mariatt entertained at her home in Sewickley yesterday afternoon. The affair was a "thimble bee," the hours being from 2 until 5 o'clock, in honor of Miss Mary Little, a sister of the hostess, who will be married this month to J. W. Barber of Allegheny. About 75 guests were present, and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Love-McNabb.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—In the Second Presbyterian church last night took place the marriage of Miss Alice Love and Percy P. McNabb. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Love. Four hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. Q. A. McDowell of Danville, Ky.

Big Crowd at Indiana Races.

INDIANA, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The third day of the fair was attended by the largest crowd that was ever on the grounds, 25,000. The race winners were: 2:15 trot or pace, Tess; best time, 2:14¼. 2:18 trot or pace, Withagzar, best time, 2:19. 2:27 trot, Kopola, best time, 2:26¾.

Met in Regular Session.

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church of Sewickley met in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon. Mrs. William O. Campbell presided. The topic was "Japan and Foreigners in the United States," the program being in charge of Mrs. John N. Tate, Jr., and Mrs. Clarence M. Mendenhall.

Connellsville Couple Wed.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Ross F. Lytle, a druggist of this place, and Miss Harriett Barnes were married last evening at the Christian church by the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Watson.

Another Failure for Dan Patch.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 8.—At the state fair park today, Dan Patch attempted to lower his record of 1:58¼. The best he could do on the heavy track was 2:03¾.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. H. M. Landis, Mrs. James R. Jones, Miss Bessie Jones and Miss Margaret Jones have gone to Atlantic City to spend several weeks.

The opening meeting of the Otis Social club, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed until Friday, September 23.

The marriage of Miss Anna Lou Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Patterson of Aspinwall, to Henry Thompson Hamilton, took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Joseph L. Campbell, Jr., and Miss Sarah Belle Speece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Speece of Rebecca street, North Braddock, were married on Tuesday afternoon in Youngstown, O.

A pretty marriage took place last evening at the home of Justice and Mrs. Frank Redman in Holland avenue, Braddock, at 7:30 o'clock, when the sister of Mrs. Redman, Miss Luella Esther Riston, was married to Stewart Russell Nichols of Baltimore, Md.

Miss Margaret Weber of Seventh street, Braddock, and Percy R. Owens of Braddock were married at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Warner, 2201 Forbes street, this city. About 50 friends and relatives were present.

"The Yankee Consul."

Of all the productions, musical or dramatic, made in New York last season, none of them approached in the slightest degree the popularity and vogue attained by Raymond Hitchcock and his allies in Henry W. Savage's comic opera, "The Yankee Consul." For over five months this attraction was the musical menu of the Broadway theater, New York, with its great variety of catchy musical numbers, pretty scenic and costume investiture and its hosts of pretty girls in support of a fine cast of principals. The entire production and company to which the New York playgoers paid homage will be seen and heard for the week commencing next Monday night, September 12, at the Nixon theater.

Local Poles to Attend Unveiling.

Poles here are arranging to attend the ceremonies at the unveiling of the monument to Thaddeus Kosciusko in Humboldt park, Chicago, next Sunday. Dr. Leon Sadowski, 2625 Penn avenue, who is grand censor of the Polish National Alliance, will go.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains and misery by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is fading away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. FLORENCE DANFORTH, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced. Here is another case:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For years I was troubled with falling of the womb, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, bearing-down pains, backache, headache, dizzy and fainting spells, and stomach trouble.

"I doctored for about five years but did not seem to improve. I began the use of your medicine, and have taken seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, three of Blood Purifier, and also used the Sanative Wash and Liver Pills, and am now enjoying good health, and have gained in flesh. I thank you very much for what you have done for me, and heartily recommend your medicine to all suffering women."—Miss EMMA SNYDER, 218 East Center St., Marion, Ohio.

"FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN."

Women would save time and much sickness if they would write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice as soon as any distressing symptoms appear. It is free, and has put thousands of women on the right road to recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

CHURCH IS TO BE RENOVATED AND BISHOP WILL PREACH

Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, LL. D.

The Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church, Fortieth and Butler streets, has undergone the most thorough renovation since its erection in 1867. It will be opened for worship Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, L.L. D., of Philadelphia.

It is expected that the Rev. A. H. Lucas, D. D., of Albany, will preach at night. The church has been much improved since the renovators got into their hands.

VERY BEST SIGN OF PROSPERITY

Pennsylvania Railroad's Order for Full Time in Shops an Index of Business.

CONFIDENCE IN THE OUTLOOK

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Evening Post, which usually takes a pessimistic view of the country's industrial conditions, today reversed itself in the following editorial on promising prospects for workingmen:

The report that the Pennsylvania railroad has ordered its shops at Pittsburgh, Altoona and elsewhere to go on full time will be gladly received. About 20,000 men will be benefited. Full time means 55 hours a week, but since spring many of the hands have not worked more than 32 hours, and for some time past have been employed only 16 hours. What this means to the company's operatives is obvious. But it has a meaning for every man, woman and child in the United States. In the long run the activities of the railroads are a pretty good measure of general industrial conditions.

The Pennsylvania is the greatest railroad in the United States, and it covers the region of our coal, iron and steel supplies. The fact that 20,000 men are now going from very short to full time in the company's shops will be accepted as a good sign from Maine to Texas. Heavy cuts in iron and steel prices are being made for the purpose of starting up business. Some doubt has existed among manufacturers whether this end would be accomplished immediately, but the recent orders of the Pennsylvania railroad will, in lieu of other explanation, be viewed as an expression of confidence in the outlook for the great basic industries of the United States.

GIRL KILLED WHILE PRAYING ON GRAVE OF HER SISTER

Tombstone Fell Upon Her and the Builders of the Monument Were Arrested.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Death came to a beautiful young Hebrew girl in Washington cemetery, Brooklyn, today in a manner probably unparalleled. Rising from the grave of her twin sister, where she had been praying, the heavy tombstone fell upon her, killing her instantly.

Three rabbis, to each of whom she paid 50 cents to pray over the grave, were standing by her when the strange accident occurred. The prayers that were offered by the rabbis did not appease the young woman's grief, and when they had finished she fell sobbing and praying on the mound.

Two men, the builders of the monument, were arrested and locked in the Parkville police station as being responsible for her death by improperly setting the stone. The girl was identified as Yetta Berkowitz 18 years old, of No. 86 Chrystie street, Manhattan.

DEMOCRATS OF UTAH NOMINATE MOYLE

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Sept. 8.—The Democratic state convention today nominated James H. Moyle of Salt Lake for governor, and Judge Orlando W. Powers for congressman, and adopted a platform which reflects the recent renewal of charges of church interference in Utah politics and the reorganization of an anti-church party by denying the right of any power to dictate political nominations.

Riflemen Elect Directors.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Sept. 8.—The National Rifle Association of America tonight elected directors to serve for three years, as follows: Gen. L. Riggs, Maryland; Gen. P. Farmer Wanser, New Jersey; Col. Edward T. Miller, Ohio; Maj. E. Claude Goddard, Pennsylvania; J. A. Hasbell, New York; Nathan Spering, Pennsylvania; Dr. W. G. Hudson, New York; William Hayes, New Jersey; Thomas H. Keller, New York; Lieut. Albert S. Jones, New Jersey; Capt. E. B. Bruch, New York; Lieut. Robert S. Hale, Massachusetts.

Brakes Failed to Work.

WHEELING, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—One man was probably fatally and two women severely injured in a runaway traction accident this afternoon. The car was returning from the fair and was crowded with visitors. At the top of the Main street hill the brakes refused to work when a fuse burned out and a panic followed. John W. McDermott fell under the rear wheels and had both legs crushed so that amputation was necessary.

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY.

—Nine cases of typhoid fever and one of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

—McKees Rocks council last night decided to accept the Island avenue viaduct, built by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad.

—Casti Janakokos, a Greek living at 217 Third avenue, has offered a reward for the return of his brother Louis, aged 22, who was lost Tuesday.

—Ten women were arraigned before Magistrate Vitchestain yesterday, charged with frequenting the streets at late hours of the night, and all were fined $25 and costs.

—Thomas Jones of the South Side fell 26 feet from a ladder in Fourth avenue, Homestead, yesterday afternoon. He sustained a number of ugly cuts and bruises on his head and body.

—Mrs. William C. Anderson of 1674 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, caught up her child yesterday afternoon when it ran in front of a street car. Both were injured but will recover.

—Amanda McLaughlin, aged 35 years, of Stewart street, Turtle Creek, fell from a street car yesterday near her home and her head was badly hurt by coming in contact with the curb.

—James Sandy, an Italian of Bell street, was arrested at Penn and Frankstown avenues yesterday evening for running down John McCarthy, aged 12 years, of 219 Omega street. Sandy was charged with careless driving.

—A loaded freight car jumped the track in McClure street, Homestead, last evening and so piled up the remainder of the train on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks that it took three hours to clear the road.

—John McCarthy, a 12-year-old boy of Omega street, was run over by a wagon owned and driven by James Sanley, an Italian huckster, yesterday afternoon on Larimer avenue. The boy was badly injured internally. The driver was arrested.

CHURCHMEN HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Methodist Conferences Held in Titusville and Waynesburg Discuss Church Policy.

MAY BE UNION OF TWO BODIES

TITUSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—The attendance at the second day of the sixty-ninth annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church was very large. Bishop Fowler of New York presided. The forenoon session was devoted to passing third and fourth year applicants. Those admitted to eldership were George W. Gage, Joseph A. Lyons, Samuel L. Todd, Henry C. Weaver and Samuel A. Smith. In the afternoon the Rev. L. P. Warner delivered the semi-centennial sermon. In the evening the Rev. Dr. McB. Mason made the address at the celebration of the Freedman's Aid society.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—At this morning's session of the annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church Dr. Hugh L. Elderdice, president of Westminster Theological seminary, Maryland, delivered an address upon the dearth of young men entering the ministry. The report of the committee on the conference library was adopted and the Rev. F. C. Yelle elected conference librarian. A recommendation providing for a general council on the matter of church union was adopted and Dr. George Shaffer of Bellevue, Pa., was elected commissioner. An overture for union with the Primitive Methodist church was referred to a committee consisting of Dr. C. F. Swift of Beaver Falls, Dr. G. C. Sheppard of Washington, Dr. J. H. Lucas of Fairmont, W. Va.; the Rev. F. F. Brierly of Beaver Falls and John R. Pipes, Esq., of Waynesburg, with authority to instruct the commissioner. The question of union with the Methodist Episcopal church was referred to the same committee, with directions to instruct Dr. G. C. Sheppard as commissioner in regard to the action desired. At the afternoon session Dr. H. L. Stephens of the Kansas City university delivered an address and Dr. George Shaffer gave a lecture upon the young preacher. This evening a sermon was delivered by Dr. Lyman E. Davis of Sharpsburg, Pa.

COHORTS OF SATAN RUB HANDS IN GLEE

Chuckle Over Lord Primate's Indorsement of Subway Tavern, Declares Y. P. C. T. U. in Letter to Archbishop.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

KANSAS CITY, MO., Sept. 8.—The Kansas City branch of the American Young People's Christian Temperance union tonight adopted an open letter to the archbishop of Canterbury, saying:

Press dispatches report you as commending Bishop Potter's course in connection with the Subway tavern in New York, where intoxicants are sold that will produce the same wicked results as those sold at 250,000 similar places in our land. We believe the commander-in-chief of satan's hosts, the legalized liquor traffic, with all the cohorts of hell are rubbing their hands in very glee over this report.

This Goliath, the great enemy of the church of Jesus Christ, joys in the fact of this report, and in the fact that Bishop Potter ignored our communication to him, and in the fact that the leading clergymen of the Episcopal church in our own city rebuke us as impertinent and fanatical. Yet we cannot believe this great historic mother church can be arrayed against us in our righteous warfare for total abstinence, and the national prohibition of the legalized beverage liquor traffic.

The letter appeals to the archbishop to "refute this claim of the enemy that you stand as their sponsor and friend."

TOOK IT ALL.

Express Wagon Thieves Get Brazen and Grab—Police Are After Them.

The police are now after a gang of thieves that seem to have hit upon a novel way of working. They are trying to run down the clever ones that are pilfering express wagons. A number of thefts of this kind have been reported lately. The situation has become so serious that it is no longer very safe for a driver to leave an express wagon in the street long enough to deliver or call for a package.

The stealing of this kind had a climax yesterday when a horse and wagon belonging to the American Express Company was stolen from in front of a store in Market street. Thomas McSweeney, the driver, was on the way to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie depot with 13 crates of peaches and two packages of butter. He stopped in front of the store in Market street to get another package and was away from the wagon no longer than three minutes. This occurred about 11 a. m., and the horse and wagon were found at Penn avenue and Tenth street about 3 o'clock p. m. The packages, however, were missing. The butter, which was being shipped by E. M. West, was found about 5:30 p. m. at 2044 Beaver avenue, where it had been left, evidently by some one who was in a hurry. It was found by a groceryman in front of his store.

CONTRACTOR A BANKRUPT.

Banks Along the Ohio River Affected by Proceedings at Evansville, Indiana.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Jacob Tichel, president of the Evansville Contract Company, that has several government contracts for locks and dams in the upper Ohio river, filed a petition in bankruptcy here today.

The total liabilities are $215,937 85. The assets are about $87,000. Of the scheduled indebtedness about $100,000 is owing to Evansville banks for borrowed money on notes, $45,000 to banks at Parkersburg, W. Va., and $15,000 to banks in this immediate neighborhood. The Evansville Contract Company recently went into the hands of a receiver. It is said that all the contracts of the company for government work will be carried out.

Stogie Maker's Convention.

MARIETTA, O., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The third session of the Stogie Makers' National league held its eighth annual convention here today. The law committee reports this afternoon and the auditing committee's report was adopted. Forty delegates were present from Pittsburgh, Uniontown, Leechburg, Tarentum, Marietta, Wheeling, Parkersburg, Clarksburg, Wellsville and Barnesville. A big smoker was held tonight.

BANK DEPOSITS THE GREATEST

Philadelphia Financial Institutions Make Remarkable Showing.

INTEREST RATE IS REDUCED

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 8.

All the national banks of the United States made reports today to the comptroller of the currency. Those reports which went to Washington from this city showed that the banks of Philadelphia have now larger deposits, larger loans and a greater surplus than ever before. One institution has more than $40,000,000 of deposits, which is the biggest amount ever held by a national bank in Pennsylvania.

The six leading banks with the deposits of each follows: Philadelphia national, $46,298,523; Fourth Street national, $34,698,627; Girard national, $29,555,263; Franklin national, $23,290,615; Corn Exchange national, $18,444,944; Merchants national, $13,000,743.

All the banks have about $250,000,000 of deposits and $200,000,000 of this sum is loaned out. This leaves an enormous amount of unused funds in the banks which has resulted in lowering interest rates to the lowest point reached here for several years. Money that must be returned on "call," or demand any day the bank chooses to ask for it, is loaned at 2½ per cent interest. Two years ago this month such money was as high as 3½ per cent in New York. Money can be borrowed for a year on good security at 3½ per cent.

The city of Philadelphia has upwards of $22,000,000 of unused funds in banks here, and the state of Pennsylvania has several millions more. The Pennsylvania railroad has also a vast sum on deposit here, and these unusual amounts have helped greatly to make the bank vaults almost unable to hold the floods of money that pour into them.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

TEMPLARS ELECT OFFICERS.

George W. Moulton of Illinois Is Chosen for Grand Master.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The grand encampment of the Knights Templar today elected the following officers: Grand master, George W. Moulton, Illinois; deputy grand master, Henry W. Rugg, Rhode Island; grand senior warden, Arthur McArthur, New York; grand junior warden, W. Frank Pierce, California; grand generalissimo, William B. Melish, Ohio; grand captain general, Frank H. Thomas, Washington; grand recorder, John A. Gerow, Michigan; grand treasurer, H. Wales Lines, Connecticut.

The following officers were appointed: Grand warden, Edward W. Wellington; grand standard-bearer, William H. Norris; grand sword-bearer, G. W. Orr.

Will Bring Remains on Celtic.

The remains of John Grier Holmes, the Pittsburgh banker who died while on the way to Europe, will be brought home by his widow and two children, who were with him when he died on the steamship Celtic, which will sail for the United States next Friday. The remains are expected to reach Pittsburgh by September 24. The announcement of the date for sailing by the family was made known to the firm of N. Holmes & Son yesterday by cablegram from Joseph H. Holmes, who was with his father.

Dam Opening Postponed.

ROCHESTER, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Merrill Dam Celebration association was held tonight. James B. Leaf presided. The date of the celebration was changed from October 8 to October 15, as a meeting of civil engineers will be held at St. Louis on the former date. Addresses were made by Hon. I. E. Mansfield and E. F. Holt. The manufacturing plants of the Beaver valley will be asked to close on the day of the celebration.

THEY LAUGHED

At the Arguments on the Packages.

The husband of an Ohio woman brought home some packages of Grape-Nuts one evening and there was much discussion, but let her tell the story.

"Two years ago I was thin and sickly and suffered so from indigestion, was very nervous, and could not sleep at night, I was not able physically or mentally to perform my duties and was constantly under the care of our physician. I had tried plain living and all the different remedies recommended by friends but got no better.

"One day my husband brought home two yellow boxes and said, 'The grocer wants us to try this food and report how we like it, he thinks it will help you.' I read all it said on the boxes about Grape-Nuts and I remember how I laughed at it, for I thought it foolish to think food could help me. But the next meal we all ate some with cream. We liked and enjoyed the delicious crisp and new flavor so we kept on using Grape-Nuts, not because we thought it would cure me but because we liked it.

"At that time we had no idea what the results would be but now I am anxious to have the world know that today I am a well and strong woman physically and mentally. I gained over 30 pounds, do not suffer from any of the old ails and I know that it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. They call me 'Grape-Nuts' here in the home and all of my friends have asked me the cause of it all. I have persuaded several of them to use Grape-Nuts and every one of them who has done so has been benefited and I wish it were in my power to induce everyone who is sick to give this wonderful food a trial. We still have Grape-Nuts three times a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days on this nourishing and completely digestible food will show anyone who is run down from improper feeding a great change, sometimes worth more than a gold mine because it may mean the joy and spring of perfect health in place of the old ails. "Trial proves." "There's a reason."

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

KOVOVICK PAYS DEATH PENALTY

Murderer of Contractor Ferguson Is Hanged in Washington County (Pa.) Jail.

SANG ON WAY TO SCAFFOLD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 8.—Milovar Kovovick, the murderer of Contractor Samuel T. Ferguson, was hanged in the corridor of the Washington county jail shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. Kovovick met death chanting a farewell.

About 200 persons had assembled in the corridors to witness the hanging. Former Sheriff William McKinley of Allegheny county, Sheriff Trescher of Westmoreland county, Sheriff Frock of Fayette county and Deputy Sheriff Swartwood of Allegheny county were present. George A. Ferguson and Francis Ferguson of Pittsburgh, brothers of the murdered man, also witnessed the hanging. One woman, Miss Margaret Tucker of Washington, was present.

Sheriff E. C. Carothers.

Rev. Father Nikola Koshevitch of Allegheny conducted a short religious service with Kovovick in the cell, and at 10:23 the man, with Sheriff Carothers on one side and Deputy Phennicie on the other, walked from the cell. Kovovick was chanting a Croatian song, and as he reached the trap door raised his head that the noose might be adjusted. At 10:23½ o'clock the trap was sprung. Father Koshevitch conducted short death services over the body, and at 11 o'clock it was placed in a plain coffin and taken to the railroad station, from there being taken to Pittsburgh, where the murderer's countrymen will bury him.

The scaffold will remain in position until Tuesday, October 4, when James Callahan, a negro murderer, will be hanged.

Up to last night Kovovick protested that Pattrovick was innocent of the crime and asked that he be freed.

Opening New Coal Field.

NEW CUMBERLAND, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Options have been secured and arrangements are now being completed by the Whitney Coal Company of Washington, Pa., for the opening of an immense coal territory back of this city. The company proposes to open several mines before the first of the year and plans to employ about 300 men. Thousands of acres of coal land are now controlled by the Whitney interests.

JUNK DEALER FOUND MURDERED IN ROAD

School Children Listened to Quarrel Which Preceded the Finding of the Body.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONESSEN, PA., Sept. 8.—The body of David Greensband, a junk merchant, was found lying on a lonely road, about three miles west of this city, yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock. A cut across the front of his head and another at the back of the brain indicated murder.

Greensband left his home yesterday morning at Bricedale with Webster as his destination. From the testimony given at the coroner's investigation, it is supposed that somwhere on the Bellevernon and Webster road he was stopped by two men who presumably asked for a ride. At the Fell school house children noticed the wagon pass and were sure the occupants were quarreling as they drove down the road toward Webster. This is as far as the authorities have been able to trace the man alive. The time of passing the school house was about 9 o'clock, and as the remains were yet warm when found by two men en route for Bellevernon, it is thought that the quarrel heard by the school children terminated in the murder of Greensband. Greensband leaves a widow and five children in McKeesport.

DAVIS CLAIMS HE IS THE FRIEND OF LABOR

Vice Presidential Candidate Denies Statements Made About His Attitude Toward Union Workmen.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—In a letter in reply to one by J. C. Brownfield of Scottdale, Senator Henry G. Davis defines his position on the labor question. He says:

For many years I worked in the ranks as a wage earner and I know what it is to earn my living by the sweat of my brow. On the other hand I have been a large employer of labor, in railroads, coal mines, lumber mills, etc., and have never had any serious trouble with our men. I can recall but two instances in which there were strikes, and these were of short duration and peaceably settled. No man has ever been discharged from our service because he was a union man or been evicted from a company house for any reason. I have always believed, and my conviction came from the hard school of experience, that, measured by the character of the work he does and the cost of living, every man is entitled to full compensation for his service. I am charged with having instituted proceedings which led to an injunction against strikers by Judge Jackson of this state. The fact is that I had nothing to do with the case and knew nothing about the matter until I read of it in the newspapers. The injunction did not apply to the men in our employ or pertain to them in any way. On the contrary I remember on one occasion one of our superintendents suggested an injunction against our men and I declined to consider it.

Westmoreland Murder Trials.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—William Shipley of Latrobe, who was charged with the murder of Robert Gallagher at McCance July 27, was today found guilty of murder in the second degree. Steve Papowitz, the 17-year-old boy of Calumet, charged with killing Mike Madasce, entered a plea of guilty and will be sent to the Huntingdon reformatory.

Orphans to Learn Trades.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Soldiers' Orphan school at Jumonville today sent 61 children, 26 girls and 34 boys, to the industrial schol at Scranton, Pa. When the children of Jumonville reach the age of 14 they are sent to Scotland to learn a trade.

Fatal Cider Mill Accident.

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Mrs. H. W. Heck of Moravia was badly injured yesterday by the bursting of a wheel in her husband's cider mill. Her skull was fractured, right arm broken

MANY MEMBERS OF ATKINSON FAMILY ATTEND REUNION

Five Hundred People Gather on the Old Farm Near Middle Ferry, W. Va. Six Generations Represented.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MIDDLE FERRY, W. VA., Sept. 8.—The reunion of the Atkinson family at the farm of James Archer, near here today, was attended by 500 people. This reunion is one of the biggest annual gatherings in the northern Panhandle. Affiliating in this reunion are the Poole, Elliott, Craft, Sargent, Cracraft, Fowler, Owings, Chambers, Adams, Swearingen, McKim, Post, Marsh, Griffith, Sharp, Davis, Irwin, Harris, Patterson, Gordon, Way, McWha, Alban, Marcellus, Lemon, Hunter, Haigh, Campbell, Hunt, Farnsworth, Wylie, Baxter, Carlens, Gillespie, Householder, Foreman, Wells, Cunningham, Marshall, Day, O'Neill, Barrett, Beattie, Latimer, Bowman, Bell, McNee, Auld, Simpson, Enlow, Cary, Purviance, Brown and Archer families.

Six generations were represented at this reunion. The oldest person was John H. Atkinson of New Cumberland, aged 85. He has been commissioner of accounts in the Hancock circuit courts for 50 years; attended the first Republican convention in 1854 and was Senator Hanna's invited guest at the convention in 1900.

Officers elected today were: President, Ralph Marsh of Wellsburg; vice president, Thomas McKim; secretary, Ira Gordon of Bridgeport; treasurer, Frank Morton. The historical paper was read by J. H. Atkinson of New Cumberland.

QUAY'S OLD COMRADES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Reunion of Veterans of His Old Regiment Held—New Officers Are Elected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—The twenty-second annual reunion of the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Pennsylvania regiment, commanded by the late Senator Matthew Stanley Quay, was held here today. The business meeting this afternoon was called to order by President J. W. Graham of New Brighton.

Hon. R. P. Pomeroy, chairman of the obituary committee, reported the following deaths since the last reunion: Maj. J. M. Thompson, Thomas Boswell, John A. Blair, Robert Beckenridge, Col. M. S. Quay, Jacob Emery, Albert Shoaff, Hiram McClain, William Wallace and Robert Bruce. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Ferdinand Kincaid, New Castle; vice president, John McGarvey, Slippery Rock township; secretary, John D. L. Orr, Youngstown; treasurer, James A. McMillen, New Castle; chaplain, Rev. J. J. Sharp, New Wilmington. The next reunion will be held here the third Thursday of next August.

New Parish School Dedicated.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The new parochial school of St. John's Slavonic Catholic church at Windber was dedicated today. The Rt. Rev. Eugene A. Carvey of the Altoona diocese delivered the dedicatory address. About 20 priests from out of town assisted in the services. The school will be opened November 1. It cost $18,000.

Buckwheat Crop Damaged.

TITUSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A destructive hail and wind storm visited the Pleasantville and Shamburg oil field this afternoon, blowing down many derricks, destroying drilling rigs and entirely ruining fruit crops and buckwheat. The damage to crops and property is estimated at over $50,000.

Strange Reason for Suicide.

WARREN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—George Taylor, a prominent farmer and township trustee of Brookfield, shot himself in the head today with a shotgun, dying almost instantly. He left a letter saying: "Life is too dark to face."

CROATIANS SAY THEY WILL SECEDE

Pastor of St. Nicholas' Is Transferred and the Church Has Been Closed.

DISORDERLY MEMBERS FINED

Trustees of St. Nicholas Roman Catholic Croatian congregation, Allegheny, which has been in a turbulent state because of factional differences, were yesterday notified by the Rt. Rev. J. F. Regis Canevin, coadjutor bishop of Pittsburgh, that the church building has been closed indefinitely. This action by the church authorities in Pittsburgh is the result of the dissenting faction in the congregation refusing to abide by the decision of the Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan, bishop of Pittsburgh.

As a result of the communication to the trustees a meeting was held last night at which three trustees and about 12 members of the church were present. Last evening the leaders of the dissatisfied members announced that if the church is to remain closed that they will secede from the church in this diocese and establish a church of their own. The Croatians who are dissatisfied with the ruling of the authorities even go so far as to threaten to bring a priest of their own faith from Croatia to minister to the needs of the new congregation, which will be formed out of the members who are opposed to the pastor of St. Nicholas' church.

The Rev. Father Bosiljko Bekavac, who has been pastor of St. Nicholas, resigned his charge yesterday and Coadjutor Bishop Canevin announced that Father Bekavac had been transferred to Butler, Pa. With the resignation of the pastor and the closing of the church the authorities believe that the trouble will die out in a short time.

According to the canonical laws of the Roman Catholic church, the Croatians who propose to set up a church separate from the Roman Catholic church of this diocese and one which will not come under the jurisdiction of the head of this diocese, will be outside the church. The leaders of the faction which has been ruled against by the bishop in the affairs of St. Nicholas' church, and who threaten to bring a priest from Croatia, cannot secure a priest who holds himself subject to the laws of the Roman Catholic church.

St. Nicholas' church was built two years ago at a cost of $65,000. Of this amount the dissenting trustees claim $24,000 was advanced by the bishop and he holds a note against the congregation for the amount. He is also chief trustee and under the law the title to the St. Nicholas property, like all other properties of the Catholic church in this diocese, is vested in the reigning bishop of Pittsburgh. The congregation has a debt of $50,000 and the dissenting members of the church believe that if they can raise enough money to pay off the note held by the bishop they can secure control of the church property through action in court, to whom the bishop is at all times subject in the management of diocesan property.

One of the leading charges which led to the trouble in the church and which was heard by a committee appointed by the bishop, was that Father Bekavac, who received a salary of $800 a year, which is the usual salary paid priests of the Catholic church, had charged exorbitant fees for performing marriages, baptism and for reading funeral services.

Eight members of the church, who were arrested for raising a disturbance at the church last Sunday, when the pastor had to chop down a door in order to gain admission to the building, were given a hearing and each fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct by Magistrate Samuel Abernathey of Allegheny last night.

MILLIONS FOR SCHOOLS SPENT IN PITTSBURGH

Enormous Sums Expended for Education—An Army of Pupils—Over a Thousand Teachers Employed. Where the Money Comes From.

Millions of dollars are spent annually in maintaining the public schools of Pittsburgh. This is shown in the annual report of the Pittsburgh school district for the year ending June 31, which was forwarded yesterday to the department of public instruction by Charles Reisfar, Jr., secretary of the central board of education.

The total number of schools in the city was 1,161, under the state system, each school room permanently maintained being counted as a school. The term was 10 months. There were 54 male teachers and 1,107 female teachers. The average salary of male teachers was $150 a month and of the females $61. There were 25,358 male and 25,896 female scholars, a total of 51,454. The daily average attendance was 39,041, a percentage of 76. The cost of each pupil per month was $2.14. The total amount levied for school purposes was $1,327,296 98.

The total receipts were $2,459,159 15. This sum was made up as follows: State appropriation, $286,280 22; balance from last year, $351,126 64; taxes of all kinds, $1,327,296 98; loans, $424,737 47; from all other sources, sale of lands, fines, etc., $119,717 84.

The total expenditures were $1,996,094 94. These were: Purchasing grounds, $25,256 58; building and finishing houses, $447,501 15; renting, repairing etc., $65,563 78; teachers' wages, $808,046 32; text books, $64,095 55; school supplies, other than text books, $31,509 19; fuel and contingencies, $201,502 43; fees of treasurers, $5,571 01; salaries of secretaries, $9,060 78; debt and interest paid, $235,795 28; other expenses, $102,197 87. The balance on hand is $463,064 21. The debt of the district is $2,489,466 50.

BOARD OF TRADE PROVES POPULAR ON THE HEIGHTS

Business and Professional Men Are Uniting Readily in Organization to Improve This Section.

Increased membership, thorough harmony in purpose and much enthusiasm was shown at the meeting of the new Mt. Washington and Duquesne Heights board of trade last evening at the office of David Bassett. The office proved too small to accommodate the number who wished to attend. Many of the best known professional men of the two wards were present.

The report of the committee on by-laws concerning the preparation of a prospectus for the organization, was adopted. The stated object of the board is to advance the interests of the section industrially, commercially and ethically. To do this it is proposed to work for a site for a park, to secure better and cheaper transportation, improved streets and alleys and secure filtered water. For the present the board will not secure a charter.

On account of the increased membership, President L. A. Sneary, Secretary Robert J. McCrory and Attorney A. G. Smith were appointed a committee to secure the use of a hall or school for future meetings. It is possible that arrangements will be made for meetings in each ward. It is expected that by the next meeting the membership will be about 200.

AGREEMENT ON THE "L" WILL BE SIGNED TODAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The agreement between the elevated employes and the officials of the Interborough Company was not signed today, as was expected. It was found necessary to have the document recopied, and another meeting was called for tomorrow. "Everything is satisfactory to both sides," said Mr. Bryan, "and the document will be signed tomorrow."

Assessors Make Reports.

The assessors, who made the fall registration of voters, were expected to return their books to the county commissioners yesterday. Five hundred and twenty-three of the 618 assessors made returns. The other 95 will report today.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 20

Public Reception Will Take Place That Day and New Institution Will Be Ready for Serivce.

The new hospital for the South Side, St. Joseph's hospital and dispensary at 2117 Carson street, is assured of completion in time for a formal opening on September 20.

Work has been advancing rapidly on the building, and it is believed that the present week will see the end of the carpenters' and painters' portion. Next week the building will be furnished, and it will then be ready for the reception of patients.

The dedication of the building to the uses for which it is designed will be marked by a public opening. It is proposed that all day and in the evening the hospital be open to friends. Music and luncheon will help to make the visit more sociable, and the accommodations that have been provided will be shown to the visitors.

Immediately after this opening the hospital will be ready for its real work. Its capacity will be 50 patients, and there are a number now awaiting its opening to be taken there. The hospital is certain of finding much to do, according to those who have been instrumental in its founding.

Full announcement of the plans has not yet been made, but will be given out shortly when a number of details as yet unsettled have been satisfactorily arranged.

STREETS TO BE CHANGED.

Names and Positions of Allegheny Thoroughfares Will Be Different.

The sub-committee on surveys of Allegheny councils met yesterday and recommended favorably the following ordinances: Opening an unnamed alley from Pike street to Guckert alley, Third ward; opening Burk alley, a 20-foot street in the Tenth ward, and Howard street extension; changing the name of a portion of Straub's lane, Thirteenth ward, to Mayflower avenue, and naming an alley in the Third ward, running parallel with Fairmount street, from Federal street to Boyle street, Nixon way. A number of ordinances were recommended negatively and action on several others postponed.

The special meeting of the committee on surveys will be held this evening.

We close at 6:30 P. M. Saturdays

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 6—The deceptive curves of Ewing gave the Reds a victory over the Pirates today. But four times did the visitors drive the ball to far territory during the nine innings, and had it not been for a questionable steal by Wagner in the seventh they would not have scored a run. Pat Flaherty, on the other hand, was hit much harder than the score shows. Brilliant support in the early innings prevented disaster for him. Line drives were numerous, while the Reds were at the bat, but six of them were right in the hands of the fielders and they were bunched in the first three innings.

It was a corking good game of ball, and for once there was no wrangling with the umpire. Both teams abided by his decisions and though a few spectators tried to make it unpleasant for the umpire there was no demonstration.

The fielding of both teams was good, but Pittsburgh had the more difficult chances. Beaumont got a hit in the opening round, but was left. Bransfield opened the second with a hit, but he failed to score. It looked like a run for the visitors in the third when Flaherty started off with a hit and was moved to second by Leach's sacrifice. A passed ball put him on third and Beaumont sent a long fly to right. Jim Sebring then became a hero, for he not only caught the ball, but he made a perfect throw to the plate and nailed Flaherty, making a double play, for which he was loudly applauded.

In the fourth Sebring started trouble by hitting for two bases. Odwell followed with a double, scoring Jimmy. Steinfeldt forced Odwell at third and then Corcoran doubled, scoring Steiny. In the fifth doubles by Huggins and Peitz netted a tally. In the sixth Seymour drew a pass, but was nailed trying to steal. Odwell hit safely, but was forced by Steinfeldt, who stole second and scored on Corcoran's hit.

The Pirates made their only run in the seventh when Wagner walked, stole second and trotted home on McCormick's sharp hit through Huggins. After that both sides made weak attempts to get runs, but failed. The score:

SWEET MARIE BEATEN IN THE CHARTER OAK.

The Big Event Was Won by Tiverton, Though Dr. Strong Went the Fastest Heat.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HARTFORD, CONN., Sept. 8.—Twenty thousand people saw the great $10,000 Charter Oak stake trotted at Charter Oak park, in the Grand circuit meeting today. While under the conditions each heat was a race, the feature was the beating of Sweet Marie, the favorite, by Tiverton, the second choice. Tiverton won the major part of the money, but Dr. Strong furnished the sensational trotting of the race, when he won the first heat in 2:07½, which egalled the fastest mile ever made in this event.

Sweet Marie finished second in the first heat, but was out of the running in the other heats, finishing sixth in the second and fifth in the third. In the second heat Tiverton who receded in the pools owing to being drawn for the second platoon, started last and finished first. Dr. Strong was the contender in both heats and the gray gelding pushed Tiverton hard in the second heat. In the third heat Tiverton had the best of the going, finishing pulled up.

TWO WORLD'S RECORDS.

They Were Stepped Off on the Syracuse Track Yesterday.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Two world's records were broken at the New York state fair race meet this afternoon. Miss Phelps of Troy drove the roan gelding, Albert, 2:04¼, a mile in 2:05½, establishing new figures for a pacer with woman driver. Accompanied by a runner she went the quarter in 31¼ seconds, the half in 1:04, the three quarters in 1:33¾, and the mile in the time given.

The yearling colt, Paul D. Kelly, owned by H. G. Smith of Glens Falls, paced a mile in 2:20¾, equaling the fastest time ever made by a yearling pacer and beating the world's record of 2:22½, which has stood since 1886. The fractional time follows: 34¾, 1:09, 1:45, 2:20¾.

One More Track Record.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—It is estimated that 6,500 people attended the fair and races at Carrollton today. The track record of 2:19¼, made some years ago, was broken by Oscar, who took three straight heats in the free-for-all pace.

Watson Refuses to Design Yacht.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—After another conference with George L. Watson, held in London today, Sir Thomas Lipton announced that Mr. Watson persisted in his refusal to design a challenger for the America's cup for 1905, giving as his reason, ill-health.

Wants Theological School for Negroes.

The founding of a theological school for the education of the colored youth of this state aspiring to enter the ministry, was advocated by the Rev. Dr. Gordon, colored, of Philadelphia, at the evening session of the second day of the convention of the Lott Carey Foreign Missionary association of America, composed of colored people. Yesterday's session was opened at the Antioch church in Thirty-seventh street. Among those taking part were the Rev. D. H. Chamberlain, the Rev. C. Pollard, the Rev. John H. Lee, Washington,

So Declares Sir William Ramsay, Who Carries a String of Them.

MEDAL GIVEN TO REMSEN

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Titled and "degreed" to a greater extent than any of his 500 hearers, Sir William Ramsay, K. C. B., D.Sc., LL.D., F. R. S., in his address today, as retiring president of the Society of Chemical Industry, declared that degrees did not amount to so much after all, and that the whole examination system was faulty in that it asked "How much does the student know?" instead of "What has he done?"

The society's medal, founded in 1896, and awarded by the council once in every two years for conspicuous service rendered to applied chemistry by research, discovery, invention or improvements in processes, was today awarded to Ira Remsen, president of the Johns Hopkins university. It was unanimously voted by the society to hold the next general meeting of the society in London during the month of July, 1905. The meeting, which is being held at Columbia university is the first that has ever been held outside of Great Britain.

PROFFESSORS CHOSEN.

Western University Selects Two Well Known Men as Instructors.

Prof. E. B. Huey, Ph. D., has been selected as the associate professor with Dr. A. S. Hunter in the department of English and philosophy at the Western University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Huey received his bachelor's degree at Lafayettee college in 1895. During the past year Dr. Huey has been the assistant of Prof. Sanford in the department of experimental and comparative psychology at Clark University.

W. D. Brown, B. S., has also been selected as assistant to Dr. F. C. Phillips in the department of chemistry. Mr. Brown is a graduate of the collegiate department in this year's class, having taken the chemical course, and is well equipped to perform the duties of this position.

Moose Hunting.

There is a region in Canada, located in Northern Ontario, where the Moose, "the monarch of the forest," is to be found in great numbers. This territory is known as "Temagami," and is reached from Buffalo, Chicago and Detroit by the Grand Trunk Railway System to North Bay. The open season in this region is from October 16th to November 15th, both days inclusive, and by applying to G. T. Bell, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, full information concerning routes, guides and full particulars can be had.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR, BUT AVERAGED HIGHER

Many Issues Reached the Highest Prices of the Year. Granger Shares Reacted—Local Market Dull, but Steady.

By JOHN O. HAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The sales on the New York stock exchange yesterday fell short of a million shares, but were the largest for the year. The total for the first two hours foot up 527,000 shares, and quite a number of prominent issues advanced to the highest prices of the day. There was, however, considerable irregularity to the market all day, but the close was firm. Eastern and southern stocks, both railroad and industrial, were strong, while western railroad stocks were reactionary and members of this group closed slightly lower. Wall street had a somewhat circumstantial story to the effect that a clique of Chicago grain speculators had arranged for the widespread circulation this week of stories of damage to the corn crop. This may have had something to do with the reactionary tendency in the granger stocks, but the decline was hardly sufficient to give encouragement to the bears. The news of the corn crop was that present conditions are satisfactory, but the crop is late and not yet out of danger from frost. One crop expert estimated that it would take another month of favorable weather to assure full maturity. There was more talk of unfavorable threshing returns from both winter and spring wheat, and the grain arriving in market is of poor quality. Thus of 465 cars arriving in Chicago yesterday, only two cars graded No. 2. The cash market for wheat at Minneapolis and Kansas City was quite strong, and the options in the Chicago market advanced sharply and closed at practically the top. Corn also closed at the top, while cotton closed at the bottom.

It can hardly be said that the course of the commodity markets or the threat of a crop-killing campaign by the bears had any serious effect upon stocks. The market took the profit-taking sales in a remarkable manner, and, with the exceptions noted, was strong all day. The feature at the opening was the heavy buying of Southern Railway and the strength of the industrials, in which Steel common and preferred, Smelting and the Electrics were prominent. All these stocks advanced to the highest prices of the year, and nearly all of them closed at net gains for the day. So far as the iron trade is concerned, there is undoubtedly a much better feeling, in spite of the recent reductions in price. Railroad stocks which are largely dependent upon the industrial situation were also very strong. Pennsylvania advanced to 127½, the highest of the year, and closed at 127½ bid. Baltimore & Ohio rose to 89¾. In the afternoon renewed activity appeared in Reading common and that stock rallied sharply to 68¾, closing at a net gain of 2¼ per cent for the day. Delaware & Hudson also closed at 2½ per cent higher. All the Erie issues were strong and advanced to the highest prices of the year. Rock Island was an exception to the other grain-carriers and advanced sharply, the common reaching 28⅞ and the preferred 72¾.

The London market for American securities was higher, but foreigners traded on both sides of the market. The monetary situation in London, however, as reflected in the weekly report of the Bank of England, is steadily improving, and if the interests in control of the New York stock market retain their grip, it is not at all improbable that foreigners will increase their holdings of American securities. The Bank of England reported for the past week an increase of more than $5,000,000 in reserve and a decrease of $13,470,000 in loans. The reserve to liability is now 57.15 per cent, the highest for about 10 years. The rate of discount remained unchanged at 4 per cent, but if the present accumulation of funds continues, there is likely to be a reduction in the rate this month. The Bank of France also made a favorable statement. Gold decreased $2,685,000, but there was a reduction of no less than $20,485,000 in loans. Both these foreign bank statements are in strong contrast with that of the New York banks, which have been steadily increasing loans until the total now stands at the highest on record. The New York money market declined to 1 per cent for call and closed at ½ to 1 per cent.

The local stock market was less active yesterday, but the tone was steady to firm. Half the business consisted of Westinghouse Electric, which advanced to 82 on the strength displayed by the stock as well as by General Electric in the New York market. The steel stocks were also strong, Crucible preferred made a strong rally at 89 and closed at 88¾ bid. River Coal preferred was firm and unchanged. The natural gas stocks were all firm, but the only change of note was in Philadelphia Company common, which was bid up to 41% without bringing any offerings of the stock. The preferred sold at 44¾, an advance of a fraction. Pittsburgh Coal dividend scrip advanced to 103⅝, the highest ever quoted.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Bankers had been looking for the call of the comptroller of the currency for several days past, and were anxious to have it out of the way before the annual convention of the American association in New York next week. A majority of the statements of local banks will be found in the advertising columns of The Gazett this morning. A casual examination of the figures relating to loans shows that in 18 of the largest banks there has been a decrease of about $444,000, compared with the statements made at the last previous call in June. This showing was to be expected. Business has been dull in industrial and mercantile circles, which reduced the requirements of borrowers. Besides, a considerable amount of business has been shifted to Philadelphia and New York, where the difference in rates was so great as to justify borrowers of high credit and suitable collateral to pay off 6 per cent loans in Pittsburgh with 3½ to 4 per cent money obtained in the east. Following is a comparative statement of loans of 18 of the larger banks:

	Loans, Sept. 6.	Loans, June 9.

A private sale of Exchange National bank was reported yesterday at 89. There were also some dealings in trust company stocks, but particulars were suppressed.

The capital stock of the Pittsburgh Trolley Pole Company, amounting to $50,000, was yesterday listed on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. The company began business about six years ago with a capital of $5,000, and the increase to $50,000 has been mainly from surplus earnings. There is but one kind of stock on which dividends at the rate of 10 per cent are being paid. The par value of the stock is $100 a share. John D. Biggert is president of the company and R. S. Robb vice president.

The time money market was inclined to harden nominally. Interior demands for funds are growing and $2,000,000 will be transferred today through the New York sub-treasury to San Francisco, supposably for use in connection with railroad expenditures in the west. European money centers were reported to be somewhat disturbed by intimations of possible large withdrawals of Russian deposits with Western European banks, but sterling exchange was easy in the New York market.

The Chicago Telephone Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable October 1.

The American Snuff Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred and 2½ per cent on the common.

The British board of trade returns for August show a decrease of $1,607,500 in imports and an increase of $3,475,000 in exports.

It is stated on good authority that Rock Island has succeeded in financing the $150,000,000 issue of bonds which was authorized some time ago. It is understood that these will be underwritten and that the company will thus obtain sufficient cash to put it in easy condition, and that the position of all of the bonds will be much improved, as the new issue will provide for meeting them at maturity.

The German Trust Company has declared an initial dividend of 2 per cent, payable October 5 to stock of record September 30. The company began business in July of last year, and has at present a paid-up capital of $101,000.

The report of the Norfolk & Western for the year ended June 30 last, shows that operating expenses were unusually heavy, leaving a gain of but $124,013 in net earnings out of an increase of $1,640,316 in gross receipts. The deficiency of the Pocahontas Coal & Coke Company in the interest on that company's bonds increased heavily, and the Norfolk & Western's proportion of that deficit rose to $295,596, against $159,176 last year. By reducing the allowance to the betterment fund by $500,000 the year's surplus was kept above the total of 1903.

"Business is picking up very rapidly with us," said an officer of the Northwestern, "and there is every indication that the condition is permanent. The road is carrying vast quantities of grain, lumber and merchandise. A car shortage is being felt here and there, but it is not a general condition. Everybody seems to entertain an exceedingly optimistic view as regards fall business. The corn crop is a giant and practically assured, and as for wheat there will be a loss in quality, but not in business."

United States Steel preferred was lifted a full point to the highest level on the present movement. A good effect was produced by the August figures of output and consumption of iron, showing an expansion of 56,000 tons in the weekly capacity of the furnaces and a reduction of 150,000 tons in the stocks at the furnaces. The reported placing of a larger order by the Japanese government for steel plates was also a favorable influence.

The coalers seemed to be favored on the ground that the restriction in the anthracite output for July and August left a good field for benefit from the autumn demand now expected to develop soon. The resumption of full time in the Pennsylvania shops was regarded as an indication of improvement in the trunk line field and the increase in gross earnings for August of New York Central seemed to be reverted to in estimating the condition for eastern railroads.

The strength in Erie, Southern Railway and Steel stocks leads to the impression that Morgan is heavily in the market. The heaviness of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific is creating an impression that Harriman and Kuhn-Loeb interests are doing nothing.

A dispatch from Philadelphia to a Wall street news agency said: "It is learned that R. C. Frick has in the last few weeks purchased $2,500,000 Reading common stock for permanent investment."

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Money was in steady demand in the market today and discounts were weak. Trading on the stock exchange opened dull and irregular, remained quiet and hesitating, while awaiting confirmation of the rumor that Russia was withdrawing gold from the Bank of France, and closed with a better tone, the possible effect appearing to have been exaggerated. Consols and home rails were easy, but recovered at the close. Americans opened dull and grew firmer later. United States Steel was the feature. Prices closed below the best quotations of the day. Japanese had a sagging tendency. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 80½. Consols for money, 88⅝; consols for account, 88⅝; money, 1⅛@2 per cent; the rate of discount for short bills is 2½@2⅝ per cent; the rate of discount for three months' bills is 2 9-16@2⅝ per cent; the rate of discount of the Bank of England was 3 per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—On the bourse today a denial of the rumor that Russia was withdrawing part of the funds of the last French loan relieved the market. Trading, however, was inactive, though prices were firm, particularly rentes. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 93.25 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 86¼. The private rate of discount was 1⅛@1⅜ per cent.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Trading was very light on the bourse here today. Baltimore & Ohio and Canadian Pacific were weaker. Exchange on London, 20 marks 43½ pfgs. for checks; discount rates, short bills, 2 per cent; three months bills, 2⅝ per cent.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—Russian 4s fell another quarter of a point on the bourse today.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $79,638. Of this amount $19,477 had been deposited at San Francisco and $59,161 at Seattle. Total thus paid since Friday $221,863, against $1,062,576 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,310,000. Payment by banks to government, $3,550,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $267,000 paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $3,010,000, against $126,000 paid by government to banks for the corresponding period a week ago, and $1,469,000 paid by banks to government a year ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $200,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points. Total thus deposited since Friday, $750,000, against $500,000 for the same period a week ago.

PENN AVENUE LOT BRINGS $150,000

W. B. Loveless Buys Kaufmann Property at Corner of Seventh Street.

ANOTHER SHOE STORE LEASED

W. B. Loveless, president of the W. B. Loveless Shoe Company, has purchased from Isaac, Morris and Henry Kaufmann the property at the northeast corner of Penn avenue and Seventh street for $150,000. The deal was negotiated by W. S. Brown of the firm of Liggett & Lennox. The property is generally known as the Conley holdings and was bought by the Kaufmanns in 1902 for $118,000. It consists of a lot 37.5x94 feet, improved with two four-story brick buildings. The lower floors of these are rented for a restaurant and loan office and the upper floors for apartments, the total rental being about $7,000 a year. Mr. Loveless is a new investor in the field and it is reported that another adjoining property is likely to be added to his purchase soon. At the price paid the corner figures at the rate of $4,000 a foot for the Penn avenue frontage, or $62.50 a square foot. The location of the property, directly across from the Second Presbyterian church lot and the Y. M. C. A. holdings, both of which may be improved within a year or two with costly buildings, makes the corner one that is very likely to increase considerably in value.

In part payment for the Kaufmann holdings there was tendered a stone residence on 31.5x150 feet on the north side of Beech avenue, between Grant and Irwin avenues, Allegheny, which was put into the deal at $50,000. The house contains 14 rooms and three bath rooms and is modern in every respect. It is leased for two years at $1,590 a year.

A Colony of Shoe Stores.

Through the office of Samuel W. Black & Co. another of the Harry Davis store rooms in the Howard block, 439 Smithfield street, has been leased to the Regal Shoe Company for a term of years. The Regal store is now at 433 Wood street. The company will take possession of the building on September 15. This lease is significant in two ways. It makes the eighth shoe store that Samuel W. Black & Co. have located since April 1. It also adds another to the colony of shoe stores that are grouped in Smithfield street, near Fifth avenue. Two of these, the Douglas Shoe Company and the Emerson Shoe Company, leased store rooms in the Howard block last April through the same brokers and another firm, the E. H. Long Shoe Company, was placed by them in one of the Davis store rooms last week. Another big shoe firm is now negotiating for two more of the vacant store rooms in the Howard block, which will make almost a solid block of shoe stores.

Good Sales in Allegheny.

Four good-sized deals are announced from Allegheny this week. Joseph Wagg has sold to Gottlieb William Lutz the property at the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Elenora street, Third ward, for $17,250. The lot is 34x91 feet and is improved with brick buildings.

A. A. Spivey has bought from Enoch James a residence property, 60x132 feet, on the south side of Charles street, near Pasture lane, Eleventh ward, for $14,000.

George N. Powell sold to James F. Powell an improved property, 22x110 feet, on the north side of Washington avenue, near B street, Second ward, for $11,000.

Another Allegheny deal just closed was negotiated by the Real Estate Trust Company and Real Estate Savings and Trust Company of Allegheny. For Thomas J. Williams they sold to John Hutchison 3232 Perrysville avenue, Fifteenth ward, a brick house on 79x140 feet for $10,000. In part payment Mr. Williams received 50x110 feet in Buena Vista street, Allegheny, valued at $1,750, on which he proposes to build a flat.

Dunlap place, in the Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, which was plotted by the Merchants Land Company two years ago, is having a very lively building boom, the houses being of uniformly good quality. George Marshall is building an $8,900 house in Perrysville avenue and Charles Dunbar has under way a $7,000 residence in the same street. In Richey avenue George Reese is building three houses to cost $7,800 each; Joseph Schall, a house to cost $8,500; H. W. Watkins, a $7,500 house, and S. Armstrong and K. Cameron each a house to cost a like sum. The Merchants Land Company will also build three more houses on the same plan this fall, and six houses to cost $2,500 each in the Rodenbaugh plan in Ross township. Since Dunlap place was opened the company has disposed of over $60,000 worth of lots.

OATS PRODUCTS GO UP; CANTALOUPES FIRMER

Flour Is Considered Good Property Now—Bran and Straw Are Higher.

Rolled oats and oatmeal are quoted much lower. The decline which will become effective generally next week is due primarily to the big oat crop. Flour is steady at prevailing prices and jobbers say the present is a good time to buy. Coffee is firm and sugar is about the same as early in the week. A good many country merchants were in the city yesterday and grocery business was good.

Produce trade was below the average yesterday. Seventeen cars of bananas came in and the demand seems sufficiently good to clean up heavy receipts by the end of the week. Four cars of cantaloupes came in, making a total of 18 cars on hand; peach arrivals amounted to only five cars. The fancy peaches will be here next week; the stock on hand now is not very good. There is a fair amount of potatoes of all kinds on hand and demand is fair. There is an upward tendency on cantaloupes and prices are likely to advance before the end of the week. There was no change in eggs or cheese yesterday. Full New York cream is bringing 10 cents without any difficulty.

A number of changes are made in hay and grain. Oats are quoted lower all around. Bran is now plentiful and prices are reduced 50 cents per ton. Straw is in scant supply and is wanted. Prices on wheat and oats straw are advanced 50 cents. No. 1 mixed hay is quoted higher. Arrivals were lighter yesterday. Ear corn is offering at 67 cents, with 65½ and 66 bid.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 15 cars hay, 9 cars oats, 1 car feed, 1 car rye, 2 cars corn; Baltimore & Ohio, 3 cars hay, 5 cars corn, 2 cars feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 13 cars hay, 6 cars oats, 6 cars corn.

WHEAT PRICES MAKE A SHARP UPTURN

Good Grade of New Cereal and Rust Reports are the Factors.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—An excellent demand for wheat for milling purposes, together with reiterated reports of serious damage by rust to the crop in the northwest today caused a sharp upturn in speculative prices in this market. Final figures on December wheat showed a gain of 1¢ over yesterday's closing quotations. Corn was up ½@¾c. Oats were up ¼@¾c. Provisions made a gain of 2½@12½c.

Easy cables and much larger local receipts that had been expected caused a ratehr tame opening in wheat, the December option being unchanged to ⅛c lower at $1.06⅝@1.06¾. Several prominent commission houses were active bidders on the small decline, and with only light offerings the market quickly developed a strong undertone. As the session advanced the buying became more general, resulting in additional strength. The main factor in the situation was the extremely bullish news from the northwest. A report from Minneapolis stated that threshing returns showed an exceedingly small yield of wheat and that the movement of new spring wheat will be necessarily light, as urgent farm work will prevent free deliveries before cold weather. A good milling demand was reported from the northwest and this fact had a stimulating effect on speculative trading here. There was heavy selling of May by some big operators, but offerings were readily taken. The demand continued excellent the entire day, the market closing near the high point. After selling at $1.08⅛ December closed at $1.08⅜. Primary receipts were 1,118,962 bushels, compared with 1,295,560 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 719 cars, against 322 last week and 967 a year ago.

Mainly in sympathy with the strength of what a firm undertone pervaded the corn market. Numerous reports from various parts of the corn belt as to the backwardness of the crop, however, had considerable influence on traders. An absence of offerings was a noticeable feature. Prices were well maintained the entire day. December opened unchanged to ¼c higher at 51⅞@52¼c, sold up to 52⅝@52¾c and closed at 52⅜@52½c. Local receipts were 548 cars, with 41 of contract grade.

Trading in oats was of moderate volume, the market being held steady by the strength of wheat and corn. December opened unchanged to ¼c lower at 32¾@32⅝c, sold up to 33c and closed at 32¾@33c. Local receipts were 115 cars.

Additional indications of a break in the strike resulted in a fair degree of animation in the provisions pit. Small receipts of hogs and higher prices at the yards also helped trading. At the close October pork was up 5c at $16.97½. Lard was up 2½c at $7.12½. Ribs made a gain of 10@12½c, closing at $7.40.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 141 cars; corn, 689 cars; oats, 175 cars; hogs, 13,000 head.

ALLEGES FRAUD WAS ATTEMPTED

James M. Nevin and J. P. M'Kee Charged With Conspiracy to Secure Property.

WILL NOT TAKE JAHN'S BAIL

James M. Chadwick filed a bill in equity against James M. Nevin and J. P. McKee, in which sensational charges are embodied. Chadwick alleges that the defendants conspired to fraudulently deprive him of his property in Penn township, valued at $60,000. The property was encumbered and among the claims against it was a $6,000 mortgage in which the defendants were interested. It is alleged Nevin absented himself from his office in order to avoid receiving the first installment of interest due on the mortgage and that the plaintiff had to follow him to his home in order to pay the amount. Subsequently, it is alleged, Nevin and McKee fraudulently obtained sales for the property by the sheriff, the sales afterward being set aside.

Nevin now has possession of the property by the sale of the sheriff, and the orator alleges that, in order to permit Nevin to secure an unencumbered title, he agreed to withdraw his exceptions to the confirmation of the sheriff's deed, with the understanding that he (Chadwick) was to receive the homestead and two and a half acres of land. The latter agreement, it is alleged, was never kept by the defendants, who, after securing title, ordered Chadwick to move off the place. The orator asks the court to make the defendants trustees of the deed and require the specific performance of the agreement for the reservation.

Jahn's Bondsman Objected To.

J. Henry Jahn, who has been in jail since July 29 last, yesterday secured $500 bail each in two criminal cases brought against him by Jacob Affelmeyer. One charges forgery of $3,000, and the other false pretenses. Louis Gordon is the bondsman. Attorney John S. Robb, Sr., is representing Jahn. The same bondsman was offered in the civil proceedings brought by Evaline M. Schopfer and Aurora Capps, in which $1,000 bail is required, but Attorney Charles A. O'Brien was not satisfied with a verbal examination of Gordon. After consulting a number of attorneys and the police department, O'Brien said last night that he would not accept Gordon, and is prepared to contest him as a bondsman.

"What the district attorney's office does makes no difference to me," said Mr. O'Brien when davised of the action in the forgery case. "When bail that is satisfactory is produced it will be promptly accepted, but I cannot accept Gordon as bondsman in justice to my clients, as his property is only assessed at $7,000, which is offered on a $2,000 bond."

Peter Prensky has entered a $5,000 damage suit against Henry Herzog and Samuel Hornstein, alleging they falsely accused him of disorderly conduct in order to coerce the payment of a $20 account.

In criminal court Lizzie Ellis, Samuel Ellis and Robert Ellis, members of one family, were on trial for stealing $141 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Mary E. Gourley of Palo Alto street, Allegheny. They pleaded guilty to the charge and each was sent to the workhouse for a year.

Prosecutor Was Good-Hearted.

William Fields, colored, pleaded guilty to the larceny of $8 from William R. Johnston of Bellevue, for whom he formerly worked. The court was just about to pronounce sentence on the prisoner when the prosecutor asked that sentence be suspended, saying he thought the young man would do all right if he was released. The court asked if the prosecutor would take Fields back to work for him again, and Johnston replied that he would and pay the costs besides. The offer was accepted by the court and defendant and prosecutor left the room together.

Ten men were placed on trial at one time to answer a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony, made by C. Z. Wilson, representing the Union Supply Company, it was alleged the men entered one of the company's stores in Sygan on May 19, last, and stole a lot of clothing. When the prosecution had finished its side of the case the court held that there was no evidence and dismissed the case without letting it go to the jury. All the defendants were Slavs.

Guy Williams and Barney Beyers were convicted of entering the tailor store of Charles Schleckh, 1200 Federal street, Allegheny, and with stealing some clothing. Each was sent to the workhouse for 18 months.

Judge Macfarlane in an opinion in the case of W. J. McMaster against John Dunlap, upholds a portion of a contract in which it is stipulated that mechanics liens shall be filed against certain property. The court finds that a verbal contract alleged is insufficient to set the other aside. He allows certain items of the liens to be filed. The others are ordered stricken off.

The grand jury returned the following true bills: Assault and battery, E. H. Butterworth, John Callaghan, Martin Dezinski, H. E. Fitch, Albert Hadley, Kate C. Lundy, S. F. Montgomery, Gilbert Marks, Joseph Marion (2), Ed. McNally, C. L. Tracy, Peter G. Sylvus, George Olyncyak, Andy Panlosky, Vincent Paplelek, aggravated assault and battery; Peter Amon et al., Albert Holthouse, Hattie Murphy; riot, E. F. McNally, Peter Sylvus, C. L. Tracey, Allen Brown; larceny, Walter Coleman, Anthony Hilderbrand, Henry Kompneier, Venus Page, Peter Pervinion, Paul Terbide, George Lensur; larceny from the person, James Leonerd; embezzlement, Herbert P. Rice; false pretense, W. W. Hazlett, Alex. Matuszeski; selling liquor illegally, Charles Philoposki; nuisance, Henry Kaufhold; pointing firearms, Frank F. Miller; misdemeanor, Fanny Hecht, C. S. Magee.

Execution for Large Sum.

An execution for $14,623 74 was entered against the Economy Brewing Company in the suit of the First National Bank of Pittsburgh. The suit was brought on two notes given by the defendant company to J. J. Speck, and afterwards secured by the bank. One note of June 14, 1904, was for $9,509 and the other for $5,000, made June 27, 1904. Both matured without being paid.

Other executions issued were: National Union Fire Insurance Company of Pittsburgh vs. Henrietta Schuckler et al, $3,315; J. N. Patterson vs. C. H. Carahan, $4,870 08; G. H. Kingsley vs. David Stratton, $519 16; Emma Nelson vs. Samuel Johnson, $842 77; Third National bank of Philadelphia vs. S. M. McElroy, $506 25; same vs. H. J. Lawrence, $586 20. D. R. McNaugh vs. Jennie Myers et al, $104 80; the General Chemical Company vs. the Tri-State Mining and Manufacturing Company, $832 79; C. Webster vs. Elizabeth Krues et al, $141.

A decree in distribution was made yesterday in the estate of Wm. J. Wright, deceased, of $15,404 40.

John P. Steck, an agent of Greensburg, filed a petition in bankruptcy. He gives his liabilities as $4,435 52 and his assets as $4,640.

CLAIM MASONS AREN'T GENUINE

Officers of the Fraternity are Denouncing an Alleged Rival Organization.

PROMOTER DEFENDS LODGE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

Officers of the Masonic orders are vehemently denouncing the methods of a former master Mason in organizing rival lodges. They assert that many men are initiated into this organization, named the Independent Aolent Order of Free and Accepted Masons, in the belief that they are genuine blue lodge Masons. Elbert Crandall, past grand master of the New York state lodge, was emphatic today against the new organization and its head.

The grand master, founder, grand secretary, grand treasurer and grand proxy of the rival society, now 700 strong in this city, is Kortright Cruger, a clerk in a law firm.

"He is an expelled Mason," declared Past Grand Master Crandall today. "He was dropped from the rolls for clandestinely conferring degrees on people and claiming thus to make them bona fide Masons. Sometime ago a score of men came to me from Harlem who had joined one of Cruger's lodges. They thought they were master Masons. The members of Cruger's society cannot affiliate with master Masons. Too strong terms cannot be used in denouncing such methods."

"I am perfectly competent and thoroughly authorized to initiate men into the Masonic order," said Cruger today. "I joined the Masons in 1861, but about 16 years ago I was dropped from the rolls because I was not able to pay my dues. That was not very brotherly, was it?

"Some time ago I was authorized by the new Ohio Masonic jurisdiction to confer degrees upon applicants, and I finally organized 10 lodges in this city. When the Ohio jurisdiction insisted on levying tribute upon each lodge I severed my connection with it. I called all my members together in a general convention and was elected grand master. I am the treasurer and have charge of all the funds of the order. I also keep a record of all proceedings."

AT THE EXPOSITION.

Sousa Seems to Have Captured All the Band Lovers in the Two Cities.

The Sousa band program at the exposition drew a considerable crowd last night. Music hall was comfortably filled for the afternoon concerts. Tonight is to be one of the old-time "society and symphony" nights, well remembered by Pittsburghers who have been coming to the exposition for a decade. The name arose years ago, because Friday night was the favorite night for Pittsburghers.

In the afternoon today more school children will attend and romp through the halls. The afternoon program is:

SHOULD ARREST OWNER AND NOT THE CHAUFFEUR

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Magistrate Cornell declared today that whenever an arrest is made for illegal speeding or other violations of the automobile law, if the owner of the vehicle is present he should be arrested and not the chauffeur. His opinion was delivered during the examination of Louis Martini, chauffeur for A. Hartupee McKee of East Fiftieth street. Martini was arrested while driving Mr. McKee up town at a rate alleged to have been no less than 25 miles an hour.

JAMES BRYCE, M. P., WILL STUDY OUR ELECTION

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—James Bryce, M. P., the English author, arrived here today on the steamship Saxonia from Liverpool. He will be the guest for two weeks of Percival Lowell of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and then go to St. Louis to attend the educational congress. On his return he will deliver a course of lectures at Harvard. He will stay in this country to study the presidential election.

Sixteen Were Examined.

The board of examiners of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church met yesterday in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church, and some 50 candidates for deacons and elders were examined. Sixteen of the number were candidates for the first year course, and the others ranged from one to four years.

SEVERAL GOOD PRODUCERS IN DEEP SAND DISTRICTS

Developments in the more northern fields brought forth several good producers in the deep sand districts, but are few and far between, because the demand for extensions in the old territory is so great. New people have no part in the excitement in the quarter of the lower sand except in the way of development in the Bradford district. In Marion county the Equitable Gas company has drilled its No. 1 on the J. B. Anderson farm and it produced 10 barrels an hour. The same company has drilled its No. 5 on the J. B. Anderson farm and it produced 10 barrels an hour. The Equitable Gas company has drilled its No. 6 on the W. Hammond farm into the Gordon and it produced the first 24 hours. The Crusey Oil company has drilled its test on the [illegible] Gordon pay and the well produced 10 barrels the first 24 hours. In the Bradford district, in the same county, the Equitable company has drilled its test on the J. [illegible] farm and the hole has filled up 400 feet with gas. In the same locality the test on the [illegible] Flannagan farm has been completed and is good for about 10 barrels an hour.

In the Kinchlo creek district, Harrison county, the South Penn has completed a test on the Crocker-Hall farm and has a 10-barrel in the fifth sand.

In the old Stouts Mills district, Doddridge county, M. Murphy & Co. have completed their No. 3 on the Porter Maxwell farm and have a show for a 25-barrel producer. This is 1,000 feet northeast of their No. 2 on the same farm. In the Glenville district and one-half miles west of Stouts Mills station the Carter Oil Company has completed its test on the L. D. Chester farm [illegible] the Gordon and has a fair [illegible] Injun and Gordon formations. It is [illegible] a wildcat well and has been [illegible] some interest.

In the old "Little Germany" district, Doddridge county, the South Penn has completed its No. 8 on the Gertrude Shaw farm [illegible] the Gordon and the hole has filled up 1,000 feet with fluid. It will make a good producer.

Near Middlebourne, Tyler county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the [illegible] farm into the Keener sand and the hole is filled up 700 feet with fluid. It will be a good producer when shot.

On McFarland creek, Tyler county, the Slatich Fuel company has drilled its second test on the I. [illegible] farm through the salt sand and into the [illegible] shooting of oil. It will be drilled to the Berea sand, and if nothing better is found will be shot in the salt formation.

On Yellow creek, Calhoun county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 1 on the [illegible] farm into the Gordon. A test [illegible] not found any oil, but the hole is [illegible] sure. It will be drilled to the Berea [illegible] Nos. 1 and 3 on this farm are holding up 200 barrels a day. In the Minton pool, Calhoun county, the Cahell Oil and Gas Company has shot No. 3 E. W. Hall's and it produced 60 barrels the resulting 24 hours.

Not all of the operations in Limestone run, near Dillonvale, Jefferson county, is capable of furnishing gushers, as an [illegible] development work has progressed the Jefferson County Oil Company has demonstrated that it holds the bulk of the best producing territory. In addition to the Jefferson company's [illegible] Company has completed its No. 1 on the [illegible] farm and it produced [illegible] barrels the first 24 hours. The Carter Oil company has completed its No. 1 on the [illegible] farm and has a [illegible] Thomas [illegible] farm and has a [illegible] Wellsburg [illegible] the Fisher Oil Company [illegible] Waddell [illegible] completed a test on the [illegible] Bowman [illegible] and have a show for a [illegible] producer.

In the Bens run district, Harrison county, the Carter Oil Company of Titusville has completed its No. 6 on the Jane C. Clark farm and it produced [illegible] barrels the first 24 hours. The same company has completed No. 10 on the [illegible] farm [illegible] barrel pumper. The [illegible] Moore & Callahan Oil Company [illegible] a test on the William [illegible] and got a very light [illegible] a record in [illegible]

In the Monongahela [illegible] county, the Ohio Fuel Supply company has completed a casing test on the [illegible] farm and has a [illegible] on the first sand. The Equitable Gas company has drilled a test on the [illegible] farm [illegible] the Big Injun sand, but [illegible] found the pay streak.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 2 on the A. Steele farm through the sand and has a light show of oil. It will be drilled to the Gordon and if nothing better is found will be shot in the salt formation.

In the Kinchlo creek district, Harrison county, the South Penn has completed its
